Time is a dressmaker specializing in alterations.

~Faith Baldwin

Character builds slowly, but it can be torn down with incredible swiftness.

~Faith Baldwin

Sometimes there is a greater lack of communication in facile talking than in silence.

~Faith Baldwin

Autumn burned brightly, a running flame through the mountains, a torch flung to the trees.

~Faith Baldwin

I've always thought that the most perfect fate which could befall any woman would be to be born a rich widow.

~Faith Baldwin

You cannot contribute anything to the ideal condition of mind and heart known as Brotherhood, however much you preach, posture, or agree, unless you live it.

~Faith Baldwin

In my belief, a harvest is also a legacy, for very often what you reap is, in the way of small miracles, more than you consciously know you have sown.

~Faith Baldwin

One of the dreariest spots on life's road is the point of conviction that nothing will ever again happen to you.

~Faith Baldwin

The shadow of fear and uncertainty lies over most of us; for us the future seems far from being as clear and open as we believed it would be.

~Faith Baldwin

Occasionally the impossible happens; this is a truism that accounts for much of what we call good luck; and also, bad.

~Faith Baldwin

Every generation proclaims that each must lead his own life, but seldom grants the subsequent generation the right to lead theirs.

~Faith Baldwin

the one universal form of art is music.

~Faith Baldwin

Faith is the spiritual house in which we live.

~Faith Baldwin

There's nothing like fishing to pass the time and to incline toward a sort of magnificent stupidity in which nothing matters but tackle, bait, sunlight and the strike.

~Faith Baldwin

Kissing tends to bring on woolgathering, even amnesia.
