I believe in freedom for women to have equal rights - the right to work, the right to hold high positions, the right to take custody of their children after divorcing.

~Farah Diba

I was never interested in money. I always looked down on it. But now that I have less money, I see that without money, you cannot do much. Everything in the end is about money.

~Farah Diba

Fanaticism exists in every religion, whether Christian, Jewish, or Muslim.

~Farah Diba

There are many people inside Iran who say, "We don't have enough to eat. Why do we need a nuclear bomb?"

~Farah Diba

I hope in the end there will be a solution for the world, because we have advanced in so many ways, and still the world has so many different problems.

~Farah Diba

In Iran, as in all developing countries, they wanted to copy the outside world, without knowing what was good for our own country.

~Farah Diba

There are many Iranians working at NASA. One of the engineers involved with the spaceship that went to Mars is an Iranian.

~Farah Diba

I wanted to preserve the old buildings, not to destroy them and build something new.

~Farah Diba

You cannot expect a foreign country to be more Catholic than the pope for you.

~Farah Diba

Iranian women are very courageous and active, even with all the oppression.

~Farah Diba

It's normal that countries work for their own benefit, political and economic.

~Farah Diba

You have to judge everybody on balance, all the positives and all the negatives. In the life of my husband, I think the positives outweigh the negatives.

~Farah Diba
