

Filippo Tommaso Marinetti

Quotes

World, Men, Art, War, Pride, Heart, Past, Race, Beautiful, Hygiene, Enemy, Brother, Cancer, Violence, Energy, Compliments You, Sleep, Space, Splendor, Night

We want to sing the love of danger, the habit of energy and rashness.

~Filippo Tommaso Marinetti

We will glorify war-the world's only hygiene, milliterism, patriotism , the destructive gesture of freedom-bringers, beautiful ideas worth dying for, and scorn for woman

~Filippo Tommaso Marinetti

Destroy the Museums. Crack syntax. Sabotage the adjective. Leave nothing but the verb.

~Filippo Tommaso Marinetti

A new beauty has been added to the splendor of the world - the beauty of speed.

~Filippo Tommaso Marinetti

Art, in fact, can be nothing but violence, cruelty and injustice.

~Filippo Tommaso Marinetti

War is the highest form of modern art.

~Filippo Tommaso Marinetti

The past is necessarily inferior to the future. That is how we wish it to be. How could we acknowledge any merit in our most dangerous enemy: the past, gloomy prevaricator, execrable tutor?

~Filippo Tommaso Marinetti

Idealists, workers of thought, unite to show how inspiration and genius walk in step with the progress of the machine, of aircraft, of industry, of trade, of the sciences, of electricity.

~Filippo Tommaso Marinetti

Spaghetti is no food for fighters.

~Filippo Tommaso Marinetti

I feel the matter of my heart being transformed, metallized, in an optimism of steel.

~Filippo Tommaso Marinetti

War, the World's Only Hygiene

~Filippo Tommaso Marinetti

A Race car is more beautiful than the Victory of Samotracia

~Filippo Tommaso Marinetti

Related Links:

- World Quotes
- Men Quotes
- Art Quotes
- War Quotes
- Pride Quotes
- Heart Quotes
- Past Quotes
- Race Quotes
- Beautiful Quotes
- Hygiene Quotes
- Enemy Quotes
- Brother Quotes
- Cancer Quotes
- Violence Quotes
- Energy Quotes
- Compliments You Quotes
- Sleep Quotes
- Space Quotes
- Splendor Quotes
- Night Quotes