A director shouldn't get in the way of the movie, the story should.

~Frank Darabont

The Exorcist' is amazing because it recognizes that silences can be as powerful as sound effects.

~Frank Darabont

Visual storytelling of one kind or another has been around since cavemen were drawing on the walls.

~Frank Darabont

If you're going to succeed, you've got to be like one of those punch-drunk fighters in the old Warner Bros. boxing pictures: too stupid to fall down, you just keep slugging and stay on your feet.

~Frank Darabont

I think a story should take as long to tell as it is appropriate to that particular story.

~Frank Darabont

Some of us have great original ideas and some of us depend on adaptations.

~Frank Darabont

To me, length is an artificial and arbitrary factor in a film.

~Frank Darabont

Boy, I'd hate to shoot on tape or disc or whatever the hell they're talking about. I love film.

~Frank Darabont

The amazing thing about any movie is not whether it's good, but that it got made at all.

~Frank Darabont

I just tell you what a pleasure it is to get back to the kind of filmmaking I used to be allowed to do.

~Frank Darabont

I'd like to think that my films are personal enough to exist without hearkening back to their respective novels.

~Frank Darabont

I spent 20 years of my career primarily being a writer for hire.

~Frank Darabont

I think once you've finished a movie you really have to detach from it so that you can come back and watch it as an audience member.

~Frank Darabont

I've never been a big fan of the music-video style of editing movies that crept in the last few decades. I like stuff that's able to take its time.

~Frank Darabont

The human race is fundamentally insane. If you put two of us into a room together we're soon gonna start figuring out good reasons to kill one another.

~Frank Darabont

The only person who can, with impunity, make the movie he wants to make, has got to be Steven Spielberg.

~Frank Darabont

I am fascinated with times past.

~Frank Darabont

Stanley Kubrick was a big inspiration. People accuse me of never using my own material. But when did Kubrick? You look at his films and they are completely unique... completely separate entities.
