Every pain is a lesson.

~Frank Delaney

I never met a librarian worth his or her salt who didn't perceive my passion for books.

~Frank Delaney

The difference between a friend and an enemy is friendliness.

~Frank Delaney

Should; shouldn't; ought; oughtn'tâ€”the enemies of contentment.

~Frank Delaney

Stick a lighted candle up your backside to give yourself that inner glow.

~Frank Delaney

Start with the difficult and when it gets easy, everything else is easier.

~Frank Delaney

Do you know what the difference is between Friendship and Love?
Friendship is the photograph, Love is the oil painting.

~Frank Delaney

I believe the world of the spirit is in general greatly neglected and not at all served by the practice of faith as we know it, because religion isn't individual enough.

~Frank Delaney

Never underestimate their intelligence, always underestimate their knowledge.

~Frank Delaney

The human face does not always reflect the beauty that may repose in the soul.

~Frank Delaney

Find your soul and you'll live. Lose your soul and you'll die.

~Frank Delaney

Marriage is the gold standard of all relationships. It's the currency by which everything is valued.

~Frank Delaney

I'd have to struggle to find a subject in which I can't get some kind of interested pulse started.

~Frank Delaney

Writers have opinions - that, in part, is why they write. Therefore they have strong likes and dislikes.

~Frank Delaney

There are some places you love with your heart, and there are some places that you love with your mind- the places that you love with both are called 'libraries'
