She doesn't quite chop his head off. She makes a Pez dispenser out of him.

~Frank Miller

The noir hero is a knight in blood caked armor. He's dirty and he does his best to deny the fact that he's a hero the whole time.

~Frank Miller

A man without hope is a man without fear.

~Frank Miller

Gotham City. Clean shafts of concrete and snowy rooftops. The work of men who died generations ago. From here, it looks like an achievement. From here, you can't see the enemy.

~Frank Miller

Sometimes the solitary voice can be the best one.

~Frank Miller

News objectivity is a twentieth-century myth. We only complain about propoganda when we don't agree with it.

~Frank Miller

You can't have virtue without sin. What I'm after is having my characters' virtues defined by how they operate in a very sinful environment. That's how you test people.

~Frank Miller

When you got a condition, it's bad to forget your medicine.

~Frank Miller

Superman punched out Hitler. So did Captain America. That's one of the things they're there for.

~Frank Miller

'Cartoonists' dirty secret is that we tend to come up with stories that involve things that are really fun to draw.

~Frank Miller

The fundament of a superhero is the guy in tights saving innocent people from bad things. It's amazing how infrequently that seems to happen in superhero comics these days.

~Frank Miller

In the world of comic books, "troublemaker" means someone who has some sense of dignity.

~Frank Miller

The day you write to please everyone you no longer are in journalism. You are in show business.

~Frank Miller

3,000 of my neighbors were murdered. My country was, utterly unprovoked, savagely attacked. I wish all those responsible for the atrocity of 9/11 to burn in Hell.

~Frank Miller

The world doesn't make sense until you force it to.

~Frank Miller

A screenwriter is much like being a fire hydrant with a bunch of dogs lined up around it.

~Frank Miller

I'm a comic book artist. So I think to myself, what do I like to draw? I like to draw hot chicks, fast cars and cool guys in trench coat. So that's what I write about.

~Frank Miller

An old man dies. A young woman lives. A fair trade.

~Frank Miller

When you have a brush in your hand, inking a beautiful woman is a lot like running your hands over her.

~Frank Miller

Hell's waking up every goddamn day and not even knowing why you're here.

~Frank Miller

Ladies. Gentlemen. You have eaten well. You've eaten Gotham's wealth. Its spirit. Your feast is nearly over. From this moment on...none of you are safe.

~Frank Miller

Think of me as the weathered sheriff coming back into Dodge 'cause the youngsters are shooting up the church and scaring the horses and not doing right by the women.

~Frank Miller

What I want to bring back to superheroes with this project is a sense of play. Things have gotten so dreary. The heroes have gotten so ugly that even their muscles have muscles.

~Frank Miller

I check the list. Rubber tubing, gas, saw, gloves, cuffs, razor wire, hatchet, Gladys, and my mitts.

~Frank Miller

I was always into noir. When I lived in Vermont I was drawing stuff that looked like an amateur doing 'Sin City'. When I first got to New York I was swiftly informed that they only did guys in tights.

~Frank Miller

Hello, I'm Shellie's new boyfriend and I'm out of my mind. If you so much as talk to her or even think her name, I'll cut you in ways that'll make you useless to a woman.

~Frank Miller

Deadly little Miho. She won't let you feel a thing unless she wants you to. She twists the blade. He feels it.

~Frank Miller

I don't do a comic book thinking there is a movie. I just want it to be as good a comic book as it can be.

~Frank Miller

You can never escape me. Bullets don't harm me. Nothing harms me. But I know pain. I KNOW pain. Sometimes I share it. With someone like you.

~Frank Miller

As a cartoonist, I'm a caricaturist. First you find out what somebody really looks like, and then you find out what they 'really' look like.

~Frank Miller

A gun is a liar's weapon

~Frank Miller

I find that if somebody is writing and drawing a comic book, planning it to be a movie and a game at the same time tends to lead to a pretty lame job.

~Frank Miller

I realized that I was about to turn 30, and Batman was permanently 29. And I was going to be damned if I was older than Batman.

~Frank Miller

But I'm not trying to convince anybody how to vote or how to live. Nobody's ever successfully accused me of being realistic.

~Frank Miller

Hollywood is a town; it's not a medium. And cinema is a medium you can practice anywhere.

~Frank Miller

I guess in my own egotistical way I like to create my own library of Batman books that doesn't run contrary to a single thing that has been published before, but it also stands on its own.

~Frank Miller

Nancy's got a guardian angel. Seven feet plus of muscle and mayhem that goes by the name of Marv.

~Frank Miller

The rain on my chest is a baptism - I'm born again.

~Frank Miller

I take away his weapon. Both of them.

~Frank Miller

Alfred: Hmf. I suppose you'll take up flying next, like that fellow in Metropolis.

~Frank Miller

You don't... get it, boy... This isn't a mudhole... it's an operating table. And I'm the surgeon.

~Frank Miller

And I was going to be damned if I was older than Batman.

~Frank Miller

Of course we're Criminals

~Frank Miller

Comics are so full of amazing work. And I can't look at a drawing of a woman without thinking of, for instance, Wallace Wood and his amazing way of capturing beauty.

~Frank Miller

I prefer to write and draw in the privacy of my home and with total freedom and then take it to the lion's den.

~Frank Miller

I'm not going to complain about the fact that people are paying attention to my work. I suppose that wouldn't be fair.

~Frank Miller

I can tell you squat about Islam. I don't know anything about it. But I know a goddamn lot about al Qaeda and I want them all to burn in hell.

~Frank Miller

I'll make it. I won't die. I've got too much I have to do to let myself die.

~Frank Miller

The American conscience died with the Kennedys.

~Frank Miller
