

Frank Rich Quotes

New York, War, Politics, Play, Fun, Propaganda, Children, Moral, Jobs, Hollywood, Soul, Tuesday, House, Kids, Addresses, Downing Street, Imagination, Grew, Stories, Taken

Anything But An Apologist for the Lefties and All of Their Causes.

~Frank Rich

It is kind of tedious after a while, to parse politicians doing the same thing over and over again. The facts change from week to week, but the sort of masquerade doesn't.

~Frank Rich

What are Americans still buying? Big Macs, Campbell's soup, Hershey's chocolate and Spam--the four food groups of the apocalypse.

~Frank Rich

While F.D.R. once told Americans that we have nothing to fear but fear itself, Mr. Ashcroft is delighted to play the part of Fear Itself, an assignment in which he lets his imagination run riot.

~Frank Rich

After 9/11, we realized that all these silly culture wars, and arguing about rock lyrics... who cares? You know, we, for some reason, remembered what our real problems are.

~Frank Rich

I'm always struck by the kids who turn up in New York and LA, and places in between. Chicago. Wanting to do theater, wanting to do independent film. Wanting to break into television or radio.

~Frank Rich

The only truly shocking thing about last Tuesday's election is that the Democrats didn't do far worse, or as badly as they deserved.

~Frank Rich

The most wonderful street in the universe is Broadway. It is a world within itself. High and low, rich and poor, pass along at a rate peculiar to New York, and positively bewildering to a stranger.

~Frank Rich

When something really comes from the soul, I think it has a truth that you cannot find in politics.

~Frank Rich

The truth is that a lot of plays aren't political at all. In American theater history, political theater has tended to crop up when there's a crisis, a national crisis.

~Frank Rich

The actor doesn't merely command the stage, he seems to own it by divine right.

~Frank Rich

Americans have less and less patience for the intrusive and divisive moral scolds who thrived in the bubbles of the Clinton and Bush years.

~Frank Rich

One of the most persistent cultural tics of the early 21st century is Americans' reluctance to absorb, let alone prepare for, bad news.

~Frank Rich

I grew up in Washington, D.C. But also loving the theater.

~Frank Rich

Hollywood no longer depicts reporters in ruthless pursuit of criminals, high and low. Now they are the criminals.

~Frank Rich

Yul Brynner's performance in "The King and I," . . . can no longer be regarded as a feat of acting or even endurance. After 30-odd . . . Mr Brynner is, quite simply, The King.

~Frank Rich

Related Links:

- New York Quotes
- War Quotes
- Politics Quotes
- Play Quotes
- Fun Quotes
- Propaganda Quotes
- Children Quotes
- Moral Quotes
- Jobs Quotes
- Hollywood Quotes
- Soul Quotes
- Tuesday Quotes
- House Quotes
- Kids Quotes
- Addresses Quotes
- Downing Street Quotes
- Imagination Quotes
- Grew Quotes
- Stories Quotes
- Taken Quotes