Everything that can be found in the universe on a large scale is reflected in a human being on a small scale.

~Franz Bardon

You will find that there is no death at all, in the true sense of the word, but everything goes on living, transmuting and becoming perfect according to primitive laws.

~Franz Bardon

A true initiate will never force anyone who has not reached a certain level of maturity to accept his truth.

~Franz Bardon

There are no limits, and that applies to everyone on earth.

~Franz Bardon

According to the universal laws, the magician will form his own point of view about the universe which henceforth will be his true religion.

~Franz Bardon

We must always be aware of the fact that the body, soul and mind are to be trained simultaneously, for otherwise it would be impossible to gain and maintain the magic equipoise.

~Franz Bardon

... All these preparations clearly show that a human being must perfect himself in the physical world through his magical development in order to be prepared for the higher astral world after death.

~Franz Bardon

Knowledge and wisdom must go hand in hand. The adept will therefore endeavour to get on in knowledge as well as in wisdom, for neither of the two must lag behind in development.

~Franz Bardon

Life is not a fairground, but a school. -- Franz Bardon

~Franz Bardon

It is in an ennobled soul only that the universal powers can do their work, especially if body, mind and soul have been equally trained and developed.

~Franz Bardon

A true magician must not undertake anything regarding which he is not thoroughly informed.

~Franz Bardon

The intuitive magician will find a certain relationship between the earth zone and the muladhara center.

~Franz Bardon

One must first become a magician before one he can become a Kabbalist. As a Kabbalist, one works differently and more advantageously.

~Franz Bardon

The idea that by eating the meat of an animal, the animal powers or faculties could be conveyed to oneself is nonsense and originates in a mental ignorance of the perfect and genuine primitive laws.

~Franz Bardon

Be kind and generous to your fellows, but hard and relentless with yourself.
