When a hunter is in a tree stand with high moral values and with the proper hunting ethics and richer for the experience, that hunter is 20 feet closer to God.

~Fred Bear

The history of the bow and arrow is the history of mankind

~Fred Bear

Immerse yourself in the outdoor experience. It will cleanse your soul and make you a better person.

~Fred Bear

I come home with an honestly earned feeling that something good has taken place. It makes no difference whether I got anything; it has to do with how the day was spent.

~Fred Bear

If you are not working to protect hunting, then you are working to destroy it.

~Fred Bear

It is no coincidence that the American hunter is the most patriotic of all our citizens. Who cares more for this land's beauties than he?

~Fred Bear

If you consider an unsuccessful hunt to be a waste of time, then the true meaning of the chase eludes you all together.

~Fred Bear

You can learn more about hunting deer with a bow and arrow in a week than a gun hunter will learn in his entire life

~Fred Bear

Nothing clears a troubled mind better than shooting a bow.

~Fred Bear

A hunt based only on trophies taken falls far short of what the ultimate goal should be.

~Fred Bear

I hunt deer because I love the entire process; the preparation, the excitement, and sustained suspense of trying to match my woods lore against the finely honed instincts of these creatures.

~Fred Bear

I feel like one of God's chosen people, having had the opportunity to share, with many fine companions, these varied and lovely realms of our natural world.

~Fred Bear

There's more fun in hunting with the handicap of the bow than there is in hunting with the sureness of the gun.

~Fred Bear

The very remoteness kindles the imagination of the adventurous hunter. From the top of any mountain the challenge extends far and wide, until the mountains meet the sky.

~Fred Bear

A downed animal is most certainly the object of a hunting trip, but it becomes an anticlimax when compared to the many other pleasures of the hunt.
