You are a guest of nature - behave.

~Friedensreich Hundertwasser

If one person dreams alone... It is only a dream. When many people dream together... It is the beginning of a new reality.

~Friedensreich Hundertwasser

If we do not honor our past, we lose our future. If we destroy our roots, we cannot grow.

~Friedensreich Hundertwasser

The straight line is godless and immoral. The straight line is not a creative line, it is a duplicating line, an imitating line.

~Friedensreich Hundertwasser

Visual pollution is more poisonous than any other pollution because it kills the soul.

~Friedensreich Hundertwasser

The straight line leads to the downfall of humanity.

~Friedensreich Hundertwasser

Paradises can only be made with our own hands, with our own creativity in harmony with the free creativity of nature.

~Friedensreich Hundertwasser

Our real illiteracy is our inability to create

~Friedensreich Hundertwasser

If man walks in nature's midst, then he is nature's guest and must learn to behave as a well-brought-up guest.

~Friedensreich Hundertwasser

We must at last put a stop to having people move into their quarters like chickens and rabbits into their coops.

~Friedensreich Hundertwasser

Everything is so infinitely simple, so infinitely beautiful.

~Friedensreich Hundertwasser

Only when architect, bricklayer and tenant are a unity, or one and the same person, can we speak of architecture. Everything else is not architecture, but a criminal act which has taken on form.

~Friedensreich Hundertwasser

There are no evils in Nature, there are only evils of Man.

~Friedensreich Hundertwasser

Everyone should be able to build, and as long as this freedom to build does not exist, the present-day planned architecture cannot be considered art at all.

~Friedensreich Hundertwasser

The straight line is ungodly.

~Friedensreich Hundertwasser

The line I trace with my feet walking to the museum is more important and more beautiful than the lines I find there hung up on the walls.
