Less is more. Simplicity is awesome. That's all you need in life. Its just my personal philosophy.

~G-Eazy

I think it's important to evolve and grow and take risks creatively, instead of repeating yourself and doing the same thing over and over.

~G-Eazy

I've put myself in this position where I haven't set myself up with a Plan B. I don't have a safety net; it's all in.

~G-Eazy

If you push yourself to stay hungry, you're always working towards at least taking steps forward. If you're taking steps forward, then you're making progress.

~G-Eazy

I dunno, there were always people believing in me, but you just gotta be confident in whatever you wanna do.

~G-Eazy

If you get comfortable, that's how you fall off.

~G-Eazy

Lost in this young world, I'm just trying to navigate See the pie sliced, I'm just trying to grab a plate.

~G-Eazy

I was slicking my hair back when I was in sixth grade.

~G-Eazy

Nothing tops making a living off your passion.

~G-Eazy

Success is just being able to do what I love for a living, spend all my time doing it, connect with fans, and continue that for a long f - king time.

~G-Eazy

Just wearing all black comes from Johnny Cash. I'm on the road so much that if I wear all black my clothes never get dirty. You can't tell if I've worn the same shirt twice.

~G-Eazy

I always think I'm going to record a lot on tour but it's always hard to fit it in the schedule, and there's a whole lotta' other extra curricular activities that happen on the road.

~G-Eazy

Never give up and never conform.

~G-Eazy

I think when people get comfortable is when they fall off.

~G-Eazy

I wear what I like to wear, I don't pick out clothes to try to fit in or whatever, I just like what I like.

~G-Eazy

I listen to a wide array of music, all depends on the mood I'm in at the time.

~G-Eazy

I was 14 years old when I started rapping and I was terrible. I fell in love with it though and when that happens with me I become super passionate and go all the way with it.

~G-Eazy

It's important to push yourself to get better at your craft - whatever that is. It's important to grow and evolve with each project.

~G-Eazy

I see myself as a hip-hop artist, but I never wanted to make music for a specifically white audience. That's not what I grew up around.

~G-Eazy

I think it's important to say something. If you're making music it's kinda' like, oh, cool, so is everyone else.

~G-Eazy

A song or an album is never really done. You can work on it forever, but knowing when to call it a day and knowing when to walk away from it is extremely important.

~G-Eazy

In my dorm room, I was a hermit making music, I've always had a sense of urgency that I don't have forever to make this happen.

~G-Eazy

The biggest thing for me is the new music. I'm playing a lot of new music that is not released yet on my tours. Seeing the reaction to that is super inspiring.

~G-Eazy

I've matured as a person and so has the music... It's gotten more sophisticated and interesting I think.

~G-Eazy

I think, back in the day, when I was first starting to make music, all I wanted to do was to get a record deal.

~G-Eazy

I didnt grow up around all white people; I never wanted to gentrify hip-hop, Ive never wanted to speak to an all-white audience.

~G-Eazy

I just want to make music that matters, that people will remember for a long time.

~G-Eazy

Thing is, I wasn't in the library, didn't study too much, didn't get the best grades, but honestly, I didn't party a lot either. I stayed in a lot.

~G-Eazy

If I didn't make a single song in two months, I'm slippin'. You can't just party every night.

~G-Eazy

I had a job since I was old enough to work - since I was, like, 14.

~G-Eazy

When you're choosing the track list and the sequencing, it's important to make sure that there's some strong concepts on there and that it matters and it says something... that it sticks with people.

~G-Eazy

I suppose sometimes the lack of privacy can be a little hard to deal with at times.

~G-Eazy

While I made a splash, rappers came and passed But still I ask myself: how long does famous last?

~G-Eazy

There's a crazy energy in Toronto. I think some of that may be from being a border from where I'm from and being so close.

~G-Eazy

I grew up in Oakland and Berkeley, California.

~G-Eazy

I've never had a car. Like I can drive, but I'm always at the risk of killing people.

~G-Eazy

I grew up on the bus, or riding my bike, or catching the subway, I've never had a car. In college, any girl I ever dated had a car, too.

~G-Eazy

I don't come to Toronto often, so when I'm there it's always special and rare which I think makes it very exciting for my fans.

~G-Eazy

Toronto is amazing, it's one of my favourite cities to visit. Toronto and Montreal are just super dope places.

~G-Eazy

It's a really good time for California right now in music.

~G-Eazy

I think the special stuff [music] still finds a way to be heard, as long as you pair it with a good release strategy.

~G-Eazy

A great song can come from anybody. A great performance can come from anybody. It doesn't matter who you are, and that's truly what I believe.

~G-Eazy

I think any time you're at the end of a trip you're usually pretty ready to come home and start working regularly again.
