

Gabrielle Union Quotes

*People, Thinking, Mom, Years, Children, Drama, Hollywood, Race, Giving, Boys, Guy, Kind, Dream, Home, Couple, African American, Careers, Real,
Would Be, Trying*

You know what lasts longer than beauty? Being smart.

~Gabrielle Union

I've dated a number of 'mama's boys.'

~Gabrielle Union

We all have to let go of the Prince Charming complex and realize he doesn't necessarily exist in the package we assume he'll come in.

~Gabrielle Union

If we can have drones, we can have brown people on TV, and the world won't end! We need to catch up. We are painfully behind.

~Gabrielle Union

I can't just say one time of the year I'm going to do something different. I have to commit to a lifestyle behavioral change and just try to be a little bit better today than I was yesterday.

~Gabrielle Union

If someone lacked decency or respect, I didn't allow that person to stay in my world.

~Gabrielle Union

We give a lot of others significance in our lives even when they don't deserve it. It doesn't matter if they're family or if you've known them forever. If they're not good for you, they've got to go.

~Gabrielle Union

You have to be resilient.

~Gabrielle Union

When someone who loves and cares about me compliments me, I feel more glamorous than when the flashbulbs are going off on the red carpet.

~Gabrielle Union

In Hollywood, you play a mom and instantly, you've got osteoporosis.

~Gabrielle Union

I decided to follow my dreams and my passions and to always have an adventure, no matter what it is.

~Gabrielle Union

I drink a gallon of water a day.

~Gabrielle Union

I was always in the popular crowd, but I really had atrocious teeth. I was encouraged to 'do well in school, 'cause no one's going to marry you!'

~Gabrielle Union

Hollywood needs to recognise all shades of African American beauty.

~Gabrielle Union

Reality TV looks more like America than movies do.

~Gabrielle Union

I date, but the person I date most is myself, unfortunately.

~Gabrielle Union

I encourage people to ask whatever question you're most interested in hearing the answer to.

~Gabrielle Union

My wish for the world would be to end violence against women. My wish for myself would be for peace of mind.

~Gabrielle Union

I realized I had been keeping people around even when deep down I knew they were bad for me. I had overridden myself.

~Gabrielle Union

What's interesting is that producers, directors and writers tend to typecast me in terms of whatever movie they've seen me in most recently.

~Gabrielle Union

In Hollywood, you play a mom, and the next thing you know, you're on 'The Golden Girls.' They age you so fast.

~Gabrielle Union

I was at one time a football wife, and there is a certain level of bonding that happens between women who are the wives of football players.

~Gabrielle Union

I don't get enough sleep so I always have undereye bags.

~Gabrielle Union

The black community in Hollywood is very small and close-knit. Everyone has a common goal: to make a two-hour movie in 30 days.

~Gabrielle Union

All minorities think they're immune, but we're absolutely part of the one in five that gets skin cancer! It's a myth, and myths are meant to be debunked!

~Gabrielle Union

My mom is painfully sweet; she's from Nebraska.

~Gabrielle Union

But I prefer to go to comedies. Give me Julia Roberts smiling anyday.

~Gabrielle Union

You want to come home to a nice firm bed with the corners tucked in so you start over, like each night is like a new night.

~Gabrielle Union

Drama can feel like therapy whereas comedy feels like there's been a pressure and a weight lifted off of you.

~Gabrielle Union

I don't function well in chaos, whether it be my sheets or the dishwasher.

~Gabrielle Union

I played sports year around: basketball, soccer, softball and I ran track year around, from the time I was, like, six, seven.

~Gabrielle Union

I love TV. I love the stability of it.

~Gabrielle Union

The guys I tended to date, you know, didn't necessarily have it altogether but I had a great time.

~Gabrielle Union

In my career, there have been roles I haven't taken because someone involved with the project gave me a bad vibe. I don't care how much money is on the table: No job is worth feeling uneasy every day.

~Gabrielle Union

We don't consider black, urban films as 'indies,' though many of them are shot for under $10 million which is kind of the definition of an indie.

~Gabrielle Union

I just kind of assumed that you do a movie and then you leave and you hop onto the next thing. I never thought that people are actually buddies.

~Gabrielle Union

Hollywood panders to the 18-to-34 crowd. That demographic doesn't care about race and the package it comes in. They care about the hottest chick. They just like hot chicks.

~Gabrielle Union

I like directors who have worked as actors. They know the experience.

~Gabrielle Union

I'm the kind of person whose clothes are all hung up and color-coordinated, to the point where my whites don't touch my creams.

~Gabrielle Union

If my real life was half as exciting as what is reported, I would be thrilled.

~Gabrielle Union

I think if we open ourselves to all different kinds of men and all groups, we find a lot more opportunities to love.

~Gabrielle Union

I've been trying to get cast as a lesbian for years.

~Gabrielle Union

Boys are so much drama.

~Gabrielle Union

A couple of my friends started having babies, and I thought, 'Maybe one day, with the right guy.' I have to find the guy first.

~Gabrielle Union

Before I got married, I dated the gamut.

~Gabrielle Union

Related Links:

- People Quotes
- Thinking Quotes
- Mom Quotes
- Years Quotes
- Children Quotes
- Drama Quotes
- Hollywood Quotes
- Race Quotes
- Giving Quotes
- Boys Quotes
- Guy Quotes
- Kind Quotes
- Dream Quotes
- Home Quotes
- Couple Quotes
- African American Quotes
- Careers Quotes
- Real Quotes
- Would Be Quotes
- Trying Quotes