Employment is nature's physician, and is essential to human happiness.

~Galen

All who drink of this remedy recover in a short time except those whom it does not help, who all die.

~Galen

Those who are enslaved to their sects are not merely devoid of all sound knowledge, but they will not even stop to learn!

~Galen

The physician is only nature's assistant.

~Galen

Look to the nervous system as the key to maximum health.

~Galen

Confidence and hope do more good than physic.

~Galen

The best physician is also a philosopher.

~Galen

Who Are You? What do you want? Where Are You Going? Who do you serve and who do you trust?

~Galen

After coitus every animal is sad, except the human female and the rooster.

~Galen

If sometimes dreams come true, what of our nightmares?

~Galen

The reason that I keep writing is that all my most powerful messages about the fates of wild places that I care about need to have words as well as images

~Galen

The chief merit of language is clearness, and we know that nothing detracts so much from this as do unfamiliar terms.

~Galen

The combination of pictures and words together can be really effective, and I began to realise in my career that unless I wrote my own words, then my message was diluted

~Galen

He who has two cakes of bread, let him dispose of one of them for some flowers of the narcissus; for bread is the food of the body, and the narcissus is the food of the soul.

~Galen

Laziness breeds humors of the blood.

~Galen

(Wine is) the nurse of old age.

~Galen

A cold and moist brain is an inseparable companion to folly.

~Galen

The chief merit of language is clearness.

~Galen

All animals are sad after coitus except the female human and the rooster.

~Galen

When we tune in to an especially human way of viewing the landscape powerfully, it resonates with an audience

~Galen

These days, most nature photographers are deeply committed to the environmental message

~Galen

Luckily, many other people tell me how they have had a particular landscape photograph of mine in their office or bedroom for 15 years and it always speaks to them strongly whenever they see it

~Galen
