I have a condition called Aspergers Syndrome, which is like a mild form of autism It means I don't interact properly in certain social situations.

~Gary Numan

I want them to play Britney Spears at my funeral. This way I won't feel so bad about being dead, and everyone there will know there is something worse than Death.

~Gary Numan

I think if you are creative then it's an unstoppable thing. It just keeps coming throughout your entire life.

~Gary Numan

When you decide to do this kind of music then you just accept the facts.

~Gary Numan

I'll be the in to your sane.

~Gary Numan

I'm hopeless at small talk and have a problem making eye contact.

~Gary Numan

Time heals nothing, it merely rearranges our memory.

~Gary Numan

Here in my car, I feel safest of all, I can lock all the doors.

~Gary Numan

I genuinely don't know how many albums I'm going to sell when the new album comes out, because I honestly don't know how many fans I've actually got at the moment.

~Gary Numan

It seems no matter what you say and how politically correctly and carefully you say it, you offend someone. Or at least I always do.

~Gary Numan

I collect fantasy swords, replicas from films, and have them displayed on the wall as you go up the stairs.

~Gary Numan

I wouldn't say I'm vain - I'm just in a job where the way you look is important. Well, at least the facelift wasn't vanity, but the hair was.

~Gary Numan

If I thought that any of this was pre ordained, then it takes away any kind of incentive to struggle, or to put up with things, to reach for those impossible dreams, all those dramatic things.

~Gary Numan

I sometimes wonder if I might be a bit of a disappointment to people, because they are expecting all these '80s hits and what they get is a dark industrial wall of noise.

~Gary Numan

I'd been a Bowie fan before punk and used to get no end of trouble. I was always getting knocked about and having to run up the street, getting chased by people. It was horrible.

~Gary Numan

I'm not good at happy, lightweight kind of music. I'm not really good at pop music. "Cars" is probably the only true pop song I ever wrote. I wish I could write more, but I'm not very good at it.

~Gary Numan

There's no point in lying saying I am doing really, really well because I'm not; I'm cult level.

~Gary Numan

I'm very intolerant and I get fed up with people easily.

~Gary Numan

Ultravox were the blueprint for what I wanted to do, but I stumbled across them by accident.

~Gary Numan

And I used to go to the punk clubs such as a gay club in Poland Street that everyone would go to because it was the only place you could go to looking like that without getting beaten senseless.

~Gary Numan

I just didn't make music that you could sing with a big grin, still don't.

~Gary Numan

I was always a bit different. I had a very happy childhood, but I could never hang on to mates.

~Gary Numan

I've always considered myself to be fiercely patriotic. I love Britain - its history and the down-to-earth attitude people have.

~Gary Numan

I actually have two hats in my office; one says "network," one says "studio." Paul Lee over at ABC sent those over to us and I find it very useful.

~Gary Numan

Maybe I over-do the 'not-80s' thing. It should be a part of my life that I've got some sort of pride in, but I've got this huge chip on my shoulder about '80s nostalgia - and it annoys fans sometimes.

~Gary Numan

If you've been massive and it's all slid away, you tend to get written off. It's quite difficult to overcome that, which is why I've got this problem with nostalgia.

~Gary Numan

I don't believe in sharing my money. If I go out and work my nuts off and make some money, I don't feel that I should have to share it with my community.

~Gary Numan

I'm very into science-fantasy, that kind of swordfights and magic and technology thing.
