We look at it as the multiverse. We have our TV universe and our film universe, but they all co-exist.

~Geoff Johns

Overcoming fear doesn't have to be skydiving, if you're afraid of heights. Overcoming fear is an everyday thing. We do it all day long.

~Geoff Johns

I think every writer doubts themselves, every day. You procrastinate because you're afraid. You're always afraid it's not going to be as good as you want it to be.

~Geoff Johns

I may not be smart enough to do everything, but I am dumb enough to try anything.

~Geoff Johns

I've always been attracted to the characters that I didn't know anything about. If you do anything in life with passion and love, then it's worth trying.

~Geoff Johns

I don't care how people read their comics, I want them to read comics. I don't care if they read them on an iPad or a phone or in store, I just want them to read comics.

~Geoff Johns

The more that we self-analyze ourselves, the nicer we are to people and to ourselves, and the more we understand each other.

~Geoff Johns

It might sound goofy, but I do believe that emotions have power. We're all driven by something, and most of that is emotional reaction.

~Geoff Johns

I like collecting comics, I like buying comics, I like looking at comics, but I also read comics on digital readers.

~Geoff Johns

The best thing about my job is that I work with the best creative people in the business in their fields.

~Geoff Johns

Aquamen is unique in the sense that he does it without ego. He doesn't always have to be right. He's made a lot of mistakes, and he really takes those to heart.

~Geoff Johns

I know a lot of people that still buy comics, go to the shop every week, I know people who read them on an iPad. My brother reads on an iPad every week, he downloads his comics every week.

~Geoff Johns

I want to do character driven epic storylines with Throne of Atlantis kicking off.
