

Georges Duhamel

Quotes

Men, Memories, Thinking, World, Beautiful, Missing You, Battle, Knives, God, Humble, Soul, Brave, Tire, Bed, Doubt, Shoes, Heart, Happy, Moving, Courtesy

We do not know the true value of our moments until they have undergone the test of memory.

~Georges Duhamel

It is always brave to say what everyone thinks.

~Georges Duhamel

The swimmer adrift on the open seas measures his strength, and strives with all his muscles to keep himself afloat. But what is he to do when there is no land on the horizon, and none beyond it?

~Georges Duhamel

To drink is a small matter. To be thirsty is everything.

~Georges Duhamel

Do not trust your memory; it is a net full of holes; the most beautiful prizes slip through it.

~Georges Duhamel

Suffering has roused them from the sleep of gentle life, and every day fills them with a terrible intoxication. They are now something more than themselves; those we loved were merely happy shadows.

~Georges Duhamel

I have too much respect for the idea of God to make it responsible for such an absurd world.

~Georges Duhamel

There is no French town in which the wounds inflicted on the battle-field are not bleeding.

~Georges Duhamel

In the beds which the piety of the public has prepared on every side, stricken men await the verdict of fate.

~Georges Duhamel

It is strange what a contempt men have for the joys that are offered them freely.

~Georges Duhamel

I can no longer think what I want to think. My thoughts have been replaced by moving images.

~Georges Duhamel

The desire for order is the only order in the world.

~Georges Duhamel

Courtesy is not dead - it has merely taken refuge in Great Britain.

~Georges Duhamel

When you are in it up to your ears, keep your mouth shut.

~Georges Duhamel

No doubt about it: error is the rule, truth is the accident of error.

~Georges Duhamel

You conquered the landscape with the soles of shoes, not the tires.

~Georges Duhamel

The man who has entered into a beautiful union is sure of at least one person to whom he can give the best that he possesses.

~Georges Duhamel

We can know nothing till after this grave debate. The soul must withdraw, for this is not its hour. Now the knife must divide the flesh, and lay the ravage bare, and do its work completely.

~Georges Duhamel

Related Links:

- Men Quotes
- Memories Quotes
- Thinking Quotes
- World Quotes
- Beautiful Quotes
- Missing You Quotes
- Battle Quotes
- Knives Quotes
- God Quotes
- Humble Quotes
- Soul Quotes
- Brave Quotes
- Tire Quotes
- Bed Quotes
- Doubt Quotes
- Shoes Quotes
- Heart Quotes
- Happy Quotes
- Moving Quotes
- Courtesy Quotes