Voting for the lesser of two evils is voting for your own enslavement.

~Gerald Celente

When people have nothing left to lose, and they've lost everything, they lose it.

~Gerald Celente

If you don't prepare, you could lose everything. If you prepare for the worst and nothing happens, you've lost nothing.

~Gerald Celente

Free-market capitalism, in the blink of an eye, was gutted and replaced by an oligopoly.

~Gerald Celente

Work harder, work longer, and earn less because the mafia needs your money.

~Gerald Celente

What are these so-called austerity measures? What do they really bring? Oh, they bring a lot more poverty. Oh, they bring a worse GDP. Oh, they bring more unemployment.

~Gerald Celente

You have psychopaths and sociopaths in charge.

~Gerald Celente

The greatest fears that governments have are freedom of speech and exposing the corruptness, the ineptitude, and the double dealing going on that they don't want the public knowing about.

~Gerald Celente

When were we the most egalitarian country in the world? When we had the Glass/Steagal Act, which prevented the banks from becoming the criminal operations that they've become.

~Gerald Celente

Far too few have much too much, and way too many have much too little!

~Gerald Celente

When people get hungry and desperate, things get ugly. And I'll tell you where it's really going to get ugly: crime is going to go to levels we've never seen before.

~Gerald Celente

The gap between the rich and the poor is wider in the United States than it is in any of the other industrialized nations.

~Gerald Celente

I don't need some jerk like Romney, Santorum, Obama, Bush, Clinton or the rest of them telling me that they're my leaders. They couldn't lead me across the street.

~Gerald Celente

Homeland Security is armed and locked and ready to blow your brains out if you start protesting martial law.

~Gerald Celente

The people are angry. It's running out of control. And unfortunately, there are a group of police that have become nothing more than enforcers for the political and financial crime bosses.

~Gerald Celente

Oh, do you want protectionism? No, I don't. I just don't want to give my country away to China.

~Gerald Celente

Know where your money is because we're going to see bank failures, one after another.

~Gerald Celente

You heard Eric 'Kiddie' Cantor say that he was afraid of mob rule down on Wall Street. Oh, you're afraid, little cutie baby? How about going down there yourself and walking through the crowds?

~Gerald Celente

These are Gerald Celente's three Gs: gold, guns and a getaway plan.

~Gerald Celente

From Sunbelt to Rustbelt, North to South, East to West, once-thriving cities have become little more than drug-infested slums.

~Gerald Celente

The only way we come back as a country is to build the domestic economy.

~Gerald Celente

Los Estados Unidos has turned into a banana republic, a fascist banana republic.

~Gerald Celente

If you want to get into a good entrepreneurial business, guillotines may be in fashion.

~Gerald Celente

The IMF is the International Mafia Federation. They're the loansharks of last resort.

~Gerald Celente

You can sum up what has killed capitalism in four words: too big to fail.
