

Geri Halliwell

Quotes

People, Thinking, Mother, Mean, Want, Children, Daughter, Trying, Burning, Cutting, Reading, Littles, Important, Long, Feminism, Girl, Tired, Stars, Individual, Obsessed

'Spice Girls' is about unifying the world - every age, every gender, everyone. It's woman power, it's an essence, a tribe.

~Gerri Halliwell

The truth sets you free. It's a very liberating thing, when you say this is who I am warts and all and then you can just get on with life. It's amazing.

~Gerri Halliwell

I love being on the beach - it's my favourite place. I can chill out, read, listen to music, play with my daughter.

~Gerri Halliwell

Becoming a solo singer is like going from an eau de toilette to a perfume. It's much more intense.

~Gerri Halliwell

Step by step, the road is long, but at the end you can touch a star.

~Gerri Halliwell

Being mean about other people isn't on my radar.

~Gerri Halliwell

In school nativity plays I was always the bloody little donkey, I was never Mary.

~Gerri Halliwell

We hope for the future, then we reach for the past.

~Gerri Halliwell

It's important to learn to laugh at ourselves. Don't take life too seriously.

~Gerri Halliwell

Someone taught me how to eat properly. Learning from others is important when it's not working for yourself.

~Geri Halliwell

I'm never getting too lonely because it's the kind of disease where you might sit in front of the TV with three bags of biscuits, rather than communicate with the world.

~Geri Halliwell

I want to communicate through my music. If you want to know Geri Halliwell listen to my album: it tells you more about me than a documentary ever could.

~Geri Halliwell

I have been wearing black, which was a reaction to the Ginger thing. But now I have hopes and I can be anything. Tomorrow I might be naked with a feather boa, who knows?

~Geri Halliwell

I am absolutely blessed and I'm very grateful for where I am today.

~Geri Halliwell

We're all just trying to fit in and find ourselves, particularly when we're growing up.

~Geri Halliwell

Perfectionism kills art. I find that if I criticise myself, it spoils the fun. You can get paralysed by analysis - it takes all the playfulness away.

~Geri Halliwell

I have never sung a whole song on my own before and I am not the best dancer in the world, but I would rather try and fall than not try at all.

~Geri Halliwell

For me feminism is bra-burning lesbianism. It's very unglamorous.

~Gerri Halliwell

I'd never choose to turn the clock back.

~Gerri Halliwell

I'm much more accepting of myself. A lot of my body issues have naturally settled down.

~Gerri Halliwell

I know that I've overfed myself trying to prop myself up because I'm exhausted.

~Gerri Halliwell

It's really important to remember that most people in the public eye are human for a start and a lot of things that you read in the media get slightly misconstrued and manipulated.

~Gerri Halliwell

I like doing accents. One of my friends works in hotel reservations and I'll ring her up and complain about the suite. Sometimes I get her.

~Gerri Halliwell

I won't mention the word tired. This is the 20th century and I can go around a little faster.

~Gerri Halliwell

There will always be a few people who just want to knock you down or are jealous or just want to be horrible for the sake of it. I don't know what drives someone to be nasty.

~Gerri Halliwell

A lot of people have said that I've got a voice that speaks to children. I think I've got a natural naivety to me. I'm childish.

~Gerri Halliwell

I just feel that the only power I have is setting a good example.

~Gerri Halliwell

Everyone has a mad half-hour once a month.

~Gerri Halliwell

I don't know what I'm doing, but I'm damn well gonna do it!

~Gerri Halliwell

First my mother was Spanish. Then she became a Jehovah's Witness.

~Gerri Halliwell

I have always wanted a solo career, deep in the darkest pit of myself, but I didn't dare admit it to myself even. It took me a long time to confront my fears.

~Gerri Halliwell

My favorite word is existentialism. I can't say it and I'm not quite sure what it means.

~Gerri Halliwell

It's about labeling. For me feminism is bra-burning lesbianism. It's very unglamorous. I'd like to see it rebranded. We need to see a celebration of our femininity and softness.

~Gerri Halliwell

I've always made my own clothes since I was a little girl. I was a terrible sewer, but I was always cutting and customising.

~Gerri Halliwell

I have got one of those faces that change every day: you can dress me up, make me look vampy and then make me look 12 years old. But don't all women do this thing? We all take on these roles.

~Gerri Halliwell

Some people are naturally thin and some people are naturally heavier. It doesn't mean that bigger is healthier, or much thinner is healthier, it's on an individual basis.

~Gerri Halliwell

Lyricaly I'm very ironic and silly, but I hope I'll touch your heart

~Gerri Halliwell

Obviously Victoria and Mel B have become mothers and there is a part of me that wants to be a mum.

~Gerri Halliwell

I think it's unnecessary to be mean for the sake of being mean, but I do believe you have to be truthful, but with love.

~Gerri Halliwell

I don't know a lot about politics but I have great trust in him as leader.

~Gerri Halliwell

I've learnt that if I tell myself I'm not allowed something, I binge on it later. So if I want chocolate, I have chocolate. If I want biscuits, I have biscuits. I love cake. I just love cake.

~Gerri Halliwell

I think I've really learned how important it is to empower women.

~Gerri Halliwell

There's always going to be that pressure when you're in front of the camera. When you're famous it's just an extreme version of reality and there's a pressure to look a certain way.

~Gerri Halliwell

I have the most ridiculous TV crush on Michael McIntyre. I fell in love watching him on 'Britain's Got Talent'.

~Gerri Halliwell

I was so afraid of upsetting people, and not being liked for saying something that was not to everyone's taste.

~Gerri Halliwell

I have days of self-doubt, but I think the kindest thing I can do to myself is accept where my body is at.

~Gerri Halliwell

I have a history of eating disorders but, as a mother, you think of being an example to your child. I'm so much more balanced than I was.

~Gerri Halliwell

I've had singing lessons and plan to show off.

~Gerri Halliwell

For me reading was always the great escape without getting your fingers burnt.

~Gerri Halliwell

Yes, Sept 11th was unfortunate

~Gerri Halliwell

It is a blessing to have pretty people around me. I like people who are sparky, positive. Evil, dark people are repelled by me: Oooh no! Too much sunlight.

~Gerri Halliwell

Being a celebrity, you can remain a child for ever, almost. You get away with more; you can get too pampered and it's not healthy.

~Gerri Halliwell

I've got an image of me at the bottom of my garden sitting under my silver birch tree reading, while everyone else had gone somewhere exotic.

~Gerri Halliwell

I've been all sorts of different shapes and sizes at different times in my life.

~Gerri Halliwell

I was a late starter on the romantic front. I didn't start dating until I was in my 30s.

~Gerri Halliwell

I love Australian people.

~Gerri Halliwell

A pat on the back is six inches away from a kick up the ass.

~Gerri Halliwell

Competition is for dogs and horses.

~Gerri Halliwell

Words are like butter Rolling off my lips Cut like a knife And now I'm sinking battleships

~Gerri Halliwell

We are obsessed with image. I don't think we should take it that seriously.

~Gerri Halliwell

Related Links:

- People Quotes
- Thinking Quotes
- Mother Quotes
- Mean Quotes
- Want Quotes
- Children Quotes
- Daughter Quotes
- Trying Quotes
- Burning Quotes
- Cutting Quotes
- Reading Quotes
- Littles Quotes
- Important Quotes
- Long Quotes
- Feminism Quotes
- Girl Quotes
- Tired Quotes
- Stars Quotes
- Individual Quotes
- Obsessed Quotes