The United Nations has come under the control of outlaw nations and self-serving special interest groups.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

American government was founded on a belief and a faith in God and in doing what is right and just.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

Let us face it, the U.N. has failed. It has failed in its mission to promote world peace.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

Social Security is a plan that actually was designed in a much different time, in a different era, and with a different set of American demographics in mind.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

While Kuwait is not a democracy, giving only half the population a voice in their government is not a policy this Congress should support and one that I am glad that Kuwait's leaders are changing.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

I have noticed a marked improvement in FEMA and with the coordination of FEMA and the State agencies.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

While all of these are important and significant events, it is the United States foreign policy that furthers the advancement of freedoms and rights for women that is the most striking for me.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

No issue is more important to this Congress than securing our borders and protecting our homeland, and I guarantee it is very important to our constituents.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

Since President Bush took office in 2001, this Congress has supported an agenda of democracy, freedom and expansion of rights for all peoples throughout the world.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

No longer should women be denied the right to vote, no longer should women be treated as second class citizens, no longer should women not be allowed to be a citizen at all.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

As is the case with many Middle Eastern nations, women are nowhere near equal to men when it comes to basic freedoms and rights that we take for granted every day.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

Allowing Texas to display the Ten Commandments on State property but disallowing Kentucky courthouses from doing the same is a poor and flawed interpretation of the U.S. Constitution.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

When given the chance, women have proven they will participate in the electoral process.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

In fact, Social Security is the only source of income nationwide for 29 percent of unmarried elderly women.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

The list of non-democratic regimes that have seen significant reforms since 2001 is long and significant.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

While women certainly have made great strides toward pay parity in the past 30 years, there is still a gap in earnings between men and women in equivalent professions.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

Part of the redesign of FEMA is that they have so many people on standby, whether it is a retired nurse or a doctor who will take time off to go exactly where they are needed.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

The United Nations is a mess, riddled with scandals. In fact, the U.N. itself is a scandal.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

Under the current pay-as-you-go Social Security system, not one person is actually guaranteed benefits.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

The women who pass away before they receive Social Security, for them this is nothing but a tax from which they or their family will never receive a benefit.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

The United Nations greatest fear is that average Americans will no longer tolerate these international scandals and demand that America withdraw from the international organization.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

If a woman did not work and have the opportunity to save and invest on her own throughout her lifetime, she is often totally reliant on her family and Social Security for her retirement years.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

The world today is changing rapidly, and we are helping to make it better for our children's future.

~Ginny Brown-Waite

First, women are more likely to live in poverty during their retirement years than are men.
