I've always believed that one woman's success can only help another woman's success.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

There's a saying I read recently; I painted it on the fireplace and in my studio: "Be kind to everyone you meet, for everyone is fighting a great battle." We all are. Everyone.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

You breathe in and out; you breathe in and you breathe out, and you live one moment into the next moment, and then time goes by, and you find you're able to put one foot in front of the other.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

I'm always in love. If it's not with a man, it's something else. I love beauty. I love the sky I see outside the window. There's so much beauty in the world.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

You must always have great, secret, big fat hopes for yourself in love and in life. The bigger, the better.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

If you've never had a mother or a father, you grow up seeking something you're never going to find, ever. You seek it in love and in people and in beauty.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

To be happy--one must find one's bliss

~Gloria Vanderbilt

The only thing that would ever embarrass me would be something I would write that would be badly written.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

I've had many, many loves. I always feel that something wonderful is going to happen. And it always does.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

The heart of another is a dark forest.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

Some of us are born with a sense of loss. It is not acquired as we grow. It is already there from the beginning, and it pervades us throughout our lives.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

The fame you earn has a different taste from the fame that is forced upon you

~Gloria Vanderbilt

To be pregnant has been for me each time the supreme joy ... I was doing the greatest thing in the world without having to do anything -- all I had to do was be.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

Everything in life is elusive.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

I don't categorize myself as an 85-year-old woman who has written an erotic novel. I categorize myself as a writer who's written an erotic novel.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

I love to think that animals and humans and plants and fishes and trees and stars and the moon are all connected.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

I was born during an eclipse. I believe very much in astrology. If you were born on an eclipse it indicates your destiny is chaotic.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

When anybody says, 'Why me?' Why is 'me' exempt?

~Gloria Vanderbilt

The minute that you bring a unicorn into a story, you know that it's a fairy tale or a fable, because unicorns don't exist as animals. They exist as fantasy creatures.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

And it came to me, and I knew what I had to have before my soul would rest. I wanted to belong - to belong to my mother. And in return - I wanted my mother to belong to me.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

I've resolved so many things in my life. I like the idea of showing that you can go through a lot and still be on your feet, still be working, and still be positive about life.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

A work of fiction is conceived very much the same way as a dream occurs in the mind of a sleeper.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

Why not me? Suffering, she understood, is, in fact, random, universal.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

Even death is wonderful because, as Woody Allen says, we're not going to know when it happens.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

I don't think age has anything to do with what you write about.

~Gloria Vanderbilt

In anything there has to be dark and light. There's a lot of joy in my paintings and a lot of darkness.
