Animation is a technique, not a genre.

~Gore Verbinski

I think when you get people who are really talented and you take them out of their comfort zone, you get a lot more out of them.

~Gore Verbinski

Life is cruel. Why should the afterlife be any different!

~Gore Verbinski

I find it ironic that fear is eliminating the possibility to tell stories that depict our ability to overcome fear

~Gore Verbinski

Everyone always wants to find the answer, to feel that things are resolved. But in dreams, maybe there isn't an answer so much.

~Gore Verbinski

I want to diagnose the audience a bit and then offer a cure.

~Gore Verbinski

It's always good to keep people guessing.

~Gore Verbinski

I think audiences ultimately want something new. I think the business model for a franchise is such that it's very low risk because you have data and studios love data.

~Gore Verbinski

All the traditional westerns are about choice and the individual. When progress comes it's much more difficult to define the individual in that world.

~Gore Verbinski

It's a mistake for Hollywood to impose themselves on the gaming space. Not only is it arrogant, but it hasn't really worked.

~Gore Verbinski

There is a sense that animated movies are suddenly a genre. I just don't believe they are; it's a technique to tell a story.

~Gore Verbinski

I'd like to think that if you find your audience there are still opportunities there to go and tell an original story.

~Gore Verbinski

I just think it's growth when you pursue something you're not sure you can do.

~Gore Verbinski

The curse is an incredible set of blue balls.

~Gore Verbinski

I think people imagine going back to a time when they knew who they were and they knew what the circumstances were - if you screwed up it was your fault.

~Gore Verbinski

I think my parents gave me a love of learning; from there you set out on your own path.

~Gore Verbinski

I'd love to do a PG-13 animated adventure. It would be great.

~Gore Verbinski

I think comedy is drama, often. It's hard to have comedy over a period of time - commercials are one thing, but over a period of time - comedy and tragedy go hand in hand.

~Gore Verbinski

Reading in a sound booth seems very strange. Everyone has a process they are comfortable with; this was uncomfortable for me.

~Gore Verbinski

Drama is drama, and it's really... if it's something small, you put a magnifying glass up to it; if it's something big, you use a wide lens.

~Gore Verbinski

My respect for animators and animation directors has gone way, way up and it is just not something you can phone in.

~Gore Verbinski

I like horror movies, and in fact I like them even more now after making one. I just think they're much more liberating because you don't really have to apply a very strict logic.

~Gore Verbinski

I think you can never ever lie, ever. If you don't know, say, 'I don't know'.

~Gore Verbinski

Nothing's occurring in animation - you manufacture everything.

~Gore Verbinski

I always wanted to do an animated movie. I find it to be incredibly liberating as a way of telling a story.
