You can't make people change, but the organizers of WorldFest hope that people consider being vegetarian for both moral and health reasons

~Grace Slick

No matter how big or soft or warm your bed is, you still have to get out of it.

~Grace Slick

I like being in a recording studio. I like watching a song go from the simplicity of the original music.

~Grace Slick

Through literacy you can begin to see the universe. Through music you can reach anybody. Between the two there is you, unstoppable.

~Grace Slick

I don't want to see old people doing rap or rock and roll. It makes me cringe.

~Grace Slick

When the truth is found to be lies, and all the joy within you dies.

~Grace Slick

I collect stuffed animals, and toy stores make me happy.

~Grace Slick

Insignificant events can take on monumental proportions when your head is full of practically nothing.

~Grace Slick

When you get older, it's not about what you did that you regret, it's what you didn't do.

~Grace Slick

It's really a drag to sit around when you're old, and think, 'Ah, gee, I never went to France.' Go to France. Life is very short; you've got to pack it all in there.

~Grace Slick

Jerry Garcia and the Grateful Dead did as much for mankind as any president.

~Grace Slick

I am not strict vegan, because I'm a hedonist pig. If I see a big chocolate cake that is made with eggs, I'll have it.

~Grace Slick

Loss either teaches you to persist in the face of suffering, or hardens you into a bitter cynic. Sometimes, it does a little of both.

~Grace Slick

I think of myself as a positive agnostic. I don't know, therefore I'm open. I don't know, therefore I'm interested.

~Grace Slick

I said I'd be honest, I never said I'd be consistant.

~Grace Slick

I don't miss anything about the 1960s, not really. I did it. It's like asking, 'Do you miss the fourth grade?' I loved the fourth grade when I was in it, but I don't want to do it again.

~Grace Slick

When you learn that a truth is a lie, anger follows.

~Grace Slick

It's none of the governments business who comes to, in, on, or from my body.

~Grace Slick

I stopped dropping acid for a while after my daughter was born. It's hard to keep an eye on the kid while you're hallucinating.

~Grace Slick

I was appalled that the San Francisco ethic didn't mushroom and envelope the whole world into this loving community of acid freaks. I was very naive.

~Grace Slick

Woodstock is well known because this country is so hyped on amount. It was big. Half a million people doesn't necessarily mean something is good. It just means it's big.

~Grace Slick

I'm a commercial artist, both in music and art.

~Grace Slick

The main point for me is moral; animals are sentient beings. I know for some this is a hard argument to accept, but we're not built to eat a lot of meat.

~Grace Slick

I'm a John Denver freak, and I don't give a sh*t that he looks like a f***ing turkey.

~Grace Slick

Mainly I make music, and you can do that until you drop dead.

~Grace Slick

Being in a rock n' roll band was like being in a Sherman tank. Nothing got to you. You were surrounded and protected by men.

~Grace Slick

I'm busy communicating ideas.... I want you to know what I'm thinking. If you feel a connection, good. If you don't, fine.

~Grace Slick

If I were gay, life would be a lot simpler. I'm kind of annoyed that I'm not.

~Grace Slick

'Vegetarian' is a slippery word. I don't eat cheese, I don't eat duck - the point is I'm vegan.

~Grace Slick

Man is the only animal that knows he's going to die, so we invent a heaven to keep from going crazy. Most people are hypnotized by organized religion from childhood.

~Grace Slick

Without alcohol I'd be richer by two million dollars that went to pay lawyer's fees.

~Grace Slick

Jerry Garcia used to take his paints on the road. I don't do that. Either I'm a singer or a painter. I'm not good at multi-tasking.

~Grace Slick

Anyone who's 71 years old would look ridiculous singing rock.

~Grace Slick

You don't have to wear fur. They make such great fakes. There's no reason to kill an animal.

~Grace Slick

All rock-and-rollers over the age of 50 look stupid and should retire

~Grace Slick

I've enjoyed the accommodations offered by police departments from Florida to Hawaii. Any time I saw a badge, something in me would snap.

~Grace Slick

If you don't own the stage, you shouldn't be in rock n' roll.

~Grace Slick

Jim Morrison was a well-built boy, larger than average, and young enough to maintain the engorged silent connection right through the residue of chemicals.

~Grace Slick

Death is like taking an intermission when you can't come back. I like living and being around.

~Grace Slick

Things change so fast, you can't use 1971 ethics on someone born in 1971.

~Grace Slick

You can do any number of things in the music business aside from trying to look like you're 25. To me it's embarrassing.

~Grace Slick

I'm 5 feet 7 but my legs weren't long enough to be a big-time model. From the knees up, everything is long but from ankle to knee, if I was in proportion, I'd be 5 feet 9.

~Grace Slick

I like Daughtry, I like Nickelback, I like Dave Matthews. I like Beyonce - she's a really good entertainer.

~Grace Slick

You are the crown of creation, and you've got no place to go.

~Grace Slick

Rock roll is not obscure, it's really easy to understand. So is my painting.

~Grace Slick

Prancing around on stage is not the entire purpose of my life.

~Grace Slick

In Germany I ingested the entire contents of the hotel mini-bar before a show and stuck my fingers in this guy's nostrils because I thought they would fit.

~Grace Slick

I don't like old people on a rock and roll stage. Me included.

~Grace Slick

I don't wanna see old people on a rock & roll stage.

~Grace Slick

My solo albums were each like a half-finished puzzle; they represented only the beginning of a full picture. Simply put, they were inadequate and incomplete.

~Grace Slick

Feed your head. Feed your head. Feed your head

~Grace Slick

I didn't want to write a book. They made me do it.

~Grace Slick

I'm very fond of drugs.

~Grace Slick

I find it amusing on one level, poignant on another, when people try to get recognition from an outside source. It's sad.

~Grace Slick

The same person is coming through in a different medium.... My art is simple, direct and definite.

~Grace Slick

I do what I love to do, what I choose to do.

~Grace Slick

God is all over the place. And even if He isn't, if it makes me feel good, why not?

~Grace Slick

I think old people are scary. They remind you of your own death. People don't like to tell you that.

~Grace Slick

I don't like to be told what to do at all. That's unfortunate because a lot of people come up with good ideas and can direct you.

~Grace Slick

I'm not very good at multi-tasking. Most people aren't, but they think they are. The mind is really better when you're really focused on one thing.

~Grace Slick

I left rock and roll professionally at about 49. That's too long as far as I'm concerned. Some people can do it; it depends on what you were.

~Grace Slick

I think it jumps generations. You get a screwball in one, and then the next one is straight, then you get a screwball. My grandmother was goofy, my mother was straight.
