But why, why, why can't people just say what they mean?

~Graeme Simsion

Research consistently shows that the risks to health outweigh the benefits of drinking alcohol. My argument is that the benefits to my mental health justify the risks.

~Graeme Simsion

There are so many weird people that nobody takes any notice. We all just fit right in.

~Graeme Simsion

If you really love someone,' Claudia continued, 'you have to be prepared to accept them as they are. Maybe you hope that one day they get a wake-up call and make the changes for their own reasons.

I asked you here tonight because when you realise you want to spend the rest of your life with somebody, you want the rest of your life to start as soon as possible.

Humans often fail to see what is close to them and obvious to others.

~Graeme Simsion

Restaurants are minefields for the socially inept

~Graeme Simsion

Fortunately, I am accustomed to creating amusement inadvertently.

~Graeme Simsion

All of us have to make some accommodations and allowances if we are to live with another person.

~Graeme Simsion

You're unbelievable,' said Rosie. "Look at me when I'm talking.' I kept looking out the window. I was already over-stimulated. "I know what you look like.

What would you like?" "A skinny decaf latte." This is a ridiculous form of coffee, but I did not point it out.

~Graeme Simsion

A woman at the rear of the room raised her hand. I was focused on the argument now and made a minor social error, which I quickly corrected. "The fat woman-overweight woman-at the back?"

I know this song!' Rosie laughed. "If you didn't, that'd be the final proof that you're from Mars.

~Graeme Simsion

Our first relationship with a male is with our fathers. It affects how we relate to men forever.

~Graeme Simsion

You can't go through life not listening to music.

~Graeme Simsion

I set out to write a screenplay but, since my early 20s, had dreamed of writing a novel.

~Graeme Simsion

I worked in information technology and academia for a long time and met many people who were better with things and ideas than with people.

~Graeme Simsion

So, to add to a momentous day, I corrected a misconception that my family had held for at least fifteen years and came out to them as straight.
