

Graham Joyce Quotes

People, Thinking, Years, Way, Eye, Dream, Firsts, Fall, Crescent, Frozen, Games, Alcohol, Email, Speak, Ghost, Mtv, Light, Unicorn, Modern, Swimming

Plutocracy.' It has a perfect nuance: chilly, inaccessible, icy-rich.

~Graham Joyce

Why can't our job here on earth be simply to inspire each other?

~Graham Joyce

The trouble with forgiveness is that some people don't want to be forgiven.

~Graham Joyce

The mist hung in the air like a prancing unicorn.

~Graham Joyce

The blood in my veins is frozen but it sings of love.

~Graham Joyce

The overintellectualization of surrealism can be a bromide. A dream interpreted is a deflated dream.

~Graham Joyce

It is, of course, the first recourse of every elitist to see social barbarism in others.

~Graham Joyce

Rationally speaking, blaming one's behavior on alcohol or drugs is like blaming the ladder by which you descended into a pit, or the staircase that took you down to a cellar, for what you found there.

~Graham Joyce

Rome is a place almost worn out by being looked at, a city collapsing under the weight of reference.

~Graham Joyce

I've been a professional writer for 20 years, and there are contours in that time, crescents and troughs.

~Graham Joyce

I am less interested in ghosts than in people who see ghosts.

~Graham Joyce

Repression in the human psyche is tightly bundled. When it has been pulled out of the sprung package so often it is perhaps difficult to push it back in the box.

~Graham Joyce

No one needs a first edition. Whoever wrote it; even if it was Moses.

~Graham Joyce

That's emails for ya: sometimes they're like an arrow that hits so deep in the target, you can't pull it out.

~Graham Joyce

Perhaps living souls had greater phantom powers than the dead.

~Graham Joyce

I have to get out once a week and speak with people or I start thinking I'm the emperor of Abyssinia.

~Graham Joyce

The modern superstition is that we're free of superstition.

~Graham Joyce

Some people feed you with love.

~Graham Joyce

If critics of 'readable fiction' want literature to change the ways people dream, they need first to come down from the mountain and speak to the people.

~Graham Joyce

I'd defend the right for any novelist to experiment with form or language, but if people don't take to it, don't react by making out that they are thick.

~Graham Joyce

I've been playing 'Doom' for some years.

~Graham Joyce

Related Links:

- People Quotes
- Thinking Quotes
- Years Quotes
- Way Quotes
- Eye Quotes
- Dream Quotes
- Firsts Quotes
- Fall Quotes
- Crescent Quotes
- Frozen Quotes
- Games Quotes
- Alcohol Quotes
- Email Quotes
- Speak Quotes
- Ghost Quotes
- Mtv Quotes
- Light Quotes
- Unicorn Quotes
- Modern Quotes
- Swimming Quotes