I am maintaining my schedule of commuting to Washington, D.C. each week from Oregon so that I can spend my weekends and days when we are not in session traveling to communities throughout my district.

~Greg Walden

As a lifelong Oregonian, I prefer our forests green, not black.

~Greg Walden

As federal lawmakers, we have a responsibility to set a precedent for energy efficient practices.

~Greg Walden

It is up to us as lawmakers to provide the resources and streamlined processes that will enable our federal forest managers to become the best possible steward of our lands.

~Greg Walden

Removing substantial fuel loads from our forests helps prevent catastrophic fire and better protects species, watersheds and neighboring communities that call them home.

~Greg Walden

We also have to stop the flow of precursor chemicals that meth cooks use to boil up this poison.

~Greg Walden

A $1.7 billion average increase in electricity costs is estimated to result in a $1.3 billion decrease in personal income and a loss of 13,000 more jobs in the region.

~Greg Walden

The Round-Up is a wonderful community celebration, and I greatly enjoy the chance to visit with residents and see so many families enjoying the festivities offered throughout the week.

~Greg Walden

The war on meth must be fought with a multi-pronged approach.

~Greg Walden

Large corporations and unions know the power of being big enough to bargain for better rates.

~Greg Walden

I did not come to Washington to raise the electricity rates by as much as $40 per month as this plan would do.

~Greg Walden

In addition to hydropower, Oregon and the Northwest have pioneering companies leading the way in environmentally friendly energy technology.

~Greg Walden

A man of strength and wisdom, John Paul became an inspiration to generations of both Catholics and non-Catholics throughout the world by encouraging freedom, promoting peace and respecting all faiths.

~Greg Walden

Let's start and build a House that works for the people, because this is the people's House.

~Greg Walden

Since 2000, we've seen base power rates rise by 50%.
