I really like that homosexuality is a little bit of an existential puzzle.

~Guy Branum

Self-confidence is a terrible, terrible thing; it's also the most attractive thing.

~Guy Branum

A nice thing about being 40 is that you're not a kid about your understanding of sex or sexuality anymore.

~Guy Branum

All I want out of music is to think to myself, this could be in a makeover montage.

~Guy Branum

Gay people, we die in all the movies, like we almost always die in the movie, because that's what you can do to us that's dramatic. We can't make a baby.

~Guy Branum

I probably should work harder on relationships, but I don't, and there's not the same kind of imperative as when you have all the right equipment to make a human being together.

~Guy Branum

I want so much to believe in true love.

~Guy Branum

We live in a world of media that are constantly telling us it is only the shape of your body that matters to how attractive you are, and that's silly.

~Guy Branum

I am not a huge fan of being around people all the time. I really like being able to leave people.

~Guy Branum

I am a unique boutique product, I'm not for everybody.

~Guy Branum

Deeply in my heart, do I want to believe that there is that special guy that is for me. Yes, absolutely.

~Guy Branum

I'm excited for the new crop of gay comics who have never been closeted, who never thought that they needed to put on a dress to tell a joke, and it's exciting.

~Guy Branum

I'm just figuring out being able to understand that it's cool for me to date, and have guys be interested in me, and be interested in guys.

~Guy Branum

I think it's our job to be happy and find happiness for ourselves.

~Guy Branum

The person I have sex with doesn't necessarily need to have primacy in my life.

~Guy Branum

The wonderful thing about a TV show is if you get picked up for another season, there's no happily ever after.

~Guy Branum

It's very important to older male homosexuality in Los Angeles to have a pool, so that cute boys will come to your house and swim around in the pool.

~Guy Branum

It is easier to be gay at this very moment than it was five minutes ago. It is just constantly getting better, and it's wonderful.
