

Guy Ritchie Quotes

Thinking, Ideas, Wife, Jobs, Film, World, Enemy, Cracks, Writing, Bed, Intellectual, Fans, Kids, Character, Real, Facts, Movie, Fun, Interesting, People

It's not easy to strap yourself down to a desk and bash on a keyboard when you know you can direct lots of films, because directing films is fun and interactive and gregarious. Writing isn't.

~Guy Ritchie

We're not unique. We're quite volatile as individuals, but that doesn't work exponentially when we are together. Relationships are about eating humble pie.

~Guy Ritchie

My principal job is to make interesting and entertaining films, and I'm not proud of which format or which particular technique I use. I just wanted the film to look good.

~Guy Ritchie

I'm not under too much of an illusion of how smart or un-smart I am because filmmaking ultimately is about teamwork.

~Guy Ritchie

If somebody has a better idea than me, I'll take it if it surpasses what we have on the page because at the end of the day, it's me that takes the credit anyway!

~Guy Ritchie

If you change the rules on what controls you... you will change the rules on what you can control.

~Guy Ritchie

I got into film-making because I was interested in making entertaining movies, which I felt there was a lack of.

~Guy Ritchie

The best thing to do is find one person in your life and try to love them unconditionally. If you've accomplished that, you've accomplished a lot.

~Guy Ritchie

We can all be conned but at what point do we realize that we're being conned and to what point do we allow ourselves to be conned?

~Guy Ritchie

I think there's a natural system in your own head about how much violence the scene warrants. It's not an intellectual process, it's an instinctive process.

~Guy Ritchie

I got too fed up with films that didn't make you think. I liked the idea of one that you'd have to be dancing around with. I like my mind to be engaged when I watch a film.

~Guy Ritchie

It's OK to have beliefs, just don't believe in them.

~Guy Ritchie

The idea is that that there is no such thing as an external enemy.

~Guy Ritchie

Sugar is responsible for a lot of deaths. Arguably more than crack cocaine.

~Guy Ritchie

The English countryside is the most staggeringly beautiful place. I can't spend as much time there as I like, but I like everything about it. I like fishing, I like clay- pigeon shooting.

~Guy Ritchie

I can understand that the whole world is interested in my wife Madonna. That's even why I married her.

~Guy Ritchie

I like filming in the UK - I'll sleep in my own bed, which I'm really happy about.

~Guy Ritchie

I still love her. But she's retarded, too.

~Guy Ritchie

We are not that flash, me or the missus. In fact, we are quite low-maintenance.

~Guy Ritchie

I live on a bicycle...I live in central London, probably 90 percent of my travel is done on a bicycle. I love bicycles.

~Guy Ritchie

Previously, on Lock, Stock, I went to bed at two in the morning and woke up at five in the morning, and on this one I was known to nod off on the set occasionally.

~Guy Ritchie

I love fatherhood. I could bang on about kids forever.

~Guy Ritchie

I suppose directing on set is the most fun because it's a good crack and you feel you're on the battlefield whereas writing is a fairly solitary undertaking.

~Guy Ritchie

Brad [Pitt], poor geezer, was blown up, thrown around, burned, slapped, frozen. But never a moan or a whine. Now that's what I call a real star.

~Guy Ritchie

You get a different kick out of all aspects of filmmaking.

~Guy Ritchie

I'd like to work with the missus, but there's nothing in the pipeline at the moment.

~Guy Ritchie

If you find a TV series that you like, you like the tone of the TV series or the movie.

~Guy Ritchie

I like to think that we've got a plan, so let's stick to it. That said, once we've stuck to it, we're allowed as much improvisation as anyone cares to indulge themselves in.

~Guy Ritchie

Other than the fact that I like a country house, I can't think of anything I'd want to spend my money on.

~Guy Ritchie

I don't like the idea of agents in a typical form. The idea of agents, to me, brings up the idea of a man in a very boring suit who's not very good looking and doesn't have much attention to style.

~Guy Ritchie

I don't know enough about Woody Allen to be a fan of him.

~Guy Ritchie

In fact, 95% of the people in my films have been nothing less than a pleasure to work with.

~Guy Ritchie

I'm single again and I wouldn't have it any other way. I'm loving it at the moment. This is what I've been missing.

~Guy Ritchie

What I liked about American movies when I was a kid was that they're sort of larger than life and I think I'm still suffering from that reaction.

~Guy Ritchie

I like death. I'm a big fan of it.

~Guy Ritchie

I am relatively familiar with getting a good old rumping from the critics. In some cases, the critics just didn't like the film - fair cop. Others, I think, didn't understand it.

~Guy Ritchie

I'm not politically motivated. I used to be - passionately. I used to be very Left wing. Then I went very Right wing, and now I rest somewhere in the middle.

~Guy Ritchie

It's still too early to say how my wife will influence my life. But I do already know that it's sometimes hard work living with her.

~Guy Ritchie

I think it's that much harder to make a good comedy than it is straight and apparently serious.

~Guy Ritchie

As I get more and more involved in the child's world with Rocco his son I'm getting interested in making a film for children.

~Guy Ritchie

One of the interesting and exciting things about my job is watching technological ground being pioneered.

~Guy Ritchie

Related Links:

- Thinking Quotes
- Ideas Quotes
- Wife Quotes
- Jobs Quotes
- Film Quotes
- World Quotes
- Enemy Quotes
- Cracks Quotes
- Writing Quotes
- Bed Quotes
- Intellectual Quotes
- Fans Quotes
- Kids Quotes
- Character Quotes
- Real Quotes
- Facts Quotes
- Movie Quotes
- Fun Quotes
- Interesting Quotes
- People Quotes