Telling me that I'm obsessed with talking about racism in America is like telling me I'm obsessed with swimming when I'm drowning.

~Hari Kondabolu

I don't tie my shoes right. I tie them the way you would tie a gift, like a bow.

~Hari Kondabolu

I am able to apply certain things to my craft that maybe other comedians don't, because I'm a devotee.

~Hari Kondabolu

We've never had a female President in this country, which I find stunning

~Hari Kondabolu

I'm always kind of in my head thinking.

~Hari Kondabolu

I always have a bit of a look, a bit of a frown.

~Hari Kondabolu

I've always looked older.

~Hari Kondabolu

It would be cool for someone to ask me about some of the structural choices I make with my albums.

~Hari Kondabolu

I never learned how to tie my shoes, and I was mocked for that. I still don't know how to.

~Hari Kondabolu

I'd love for someone to ask me about comedic technique and choices.

~Hari Kondabolu

For years now, people have mentioned my mustache and get disappointed that when they see me live I don't have a mustache.

~Hari Kondabolu

Another stupid thing I believed for a long time was that pizza was supposed to be said peed-za.

~Hari Kondabolu

I don't look like a lot of fun. I just don't.

~Hari Kondabolu

There are a lot of times where people think I'm in things that I'm not in, because they think I'm Kumail Nanjiani.

~Hari Kondabolu

It's always fun when you see different comics at different weights or with different hair.

~Hari Kondabolu

I wrote a lot of poetry in the last two years of high school, all about the same girl I was in love with. That was pretty awful. Did you know that in poetry, every line does not need to rhyme?

~Hari Kondabolu

There are some dogs that are gigantic that look like they shouldn't be in existence.

~Hari Kondabolu

Horse is fine. I'll ride a horse.

~Hari Kondabolu

I don't drink before shows.

~Hari Kondabolu

I am frozen musically somewhere around 2004.
