Never underestimate the difficulty of changing false beliefs by facts

~Henry Rosovsky

I draw a contrast between American shared governance with "the dictatorship of ministries" wherein policy and direction for the university is ordered by bureaucrats who have never taught a class.

~Henry Rosovsky

The faculty know what they need to develop and they need to work with an administrator with the authority do get it done. To define everything in terms of these index numbers is ridiculous.

~Henry Rosovsky

Asian colleges would do well to use a broad range of criteria in selecting students and move beyond the unproductive "examination hell. "

~Henry Rosovsky

The task of building a great university is never simple.

~Henry Rosovsky

English is not the primary language for universities in China, Korea, and Japan, but they are being evaluated on the basis of publications in English and courses taught in English.
