People spend the money where the money is. Nightmare never goes away.

~Henry Selick

I feel I'm just meant to do stop-motion. Live-action is much more glamorous to some, but it's basically a whole army of people focused on one thing.

~Henry Selick

There's very few people who want to just make beautiful films that make money when they can make films that make huge money.

~Henry Selick

I'm not a public enough persona to be big and loud at the front of the ship. I'd rather more quietly interact with the artisan animators.

~Henry Selick

Miyazaki's films in Japan are bigger than Titanic. He's an incredible rock star there. In the US, they don't do as well.

~Henry Selick

We are suffering from a glut of too many 3-D movies and not enough screens.

~Henry Selick

There's always kids who become stop motion animators. I get stuff all the time. They put it on YouTube. It's exciting to see.

~Henry Selick

It's nice to be taken seriously.

~Henry Selick

I'm supporting an up-and-coming director. It's the time in my life that I want to share what I know and pass it along.

~Henry Selick

There's definitely the desire out there for young people who want to make the movies.

~Henry Selick

People are very harsh critics of animated humans.

~Henry Selick

Anyone can buy CG technology. It's not that it's easy to make those films. Those films are just as difficult, they're incredibly hard to make.

~Henry Selick

Having to make a blockbuster every time puts unhealthy pressure on creatives. The pressure on the filmmakers is so intense, I think it stifles the creativity.
