When ATM machines came out and people were prosecuted for robbing ATM machines, I don't think anybody thought the banks were against technology because they didn't want their ATM machines lifted.

~Hilary Rosen

Unauthorized use of these MP3 files is really creating a problem for artists in the music community.

~Hilary Rosen

Music has an intrinsic value that touches Americans - they love their music, and want more.

~Hilary Rosen

Everything we are doing is on the cutting edge of so many different industries and so many different interests. We're out there in the sunshine, and it feels fine.

~Hilary Rosen

The Constitution wanted artists to have control over their works because they knew it would create incentive to create more works. That is clearly still the goal.

~Hilary Rosen

Napster is essentially using the music to make money for themselves and that's the part that's both morally and legally wrong. That I think is more relevant than whether or not I'm losing money.

~Hilary Rosen

The enforcement is the flip side to the growth. And that's OK.

~Hilary Rosen

Working moms, stay-at-home moms, they're both extremely hard jobs.

~Hilary Rosen

This is a business built on promotion. We've been giving music away to radio stations for 30 years.

~Hilary Rosen

The innovation is going to come, and that is good for everybody.

~Hilary Rosen

A lot of artists are much more concerned about how their work is used and how it's disseminated. That, to artists, is as important as the money, for some people.

~Hilary Rosen

As a mom, I know that raising children is the hardest job there is.
