Humanity, take a good look at yourself. Inside, you've got heaven and earth, and all of creation. You're a worldâ€”everything is hidden in you.

~Hildegard of Bingen

The mystery of God hugs you in its all-encompassing arms.

~Hildegard of Bingen

We shall awaken from our dullness and rise vigorously toward justice. If we fall in love with creation deeper and deeper, we will respond to its endangerment with passion.

~Hildegard of Bingen

Even in a world that's being shipwrecked, remain brave and strong.

~Hildegard of Bingen

Glance at the sun. See the moon and stars. Gaze at the beauty of the green earth. Now think.

~Hildegard of Bingen

The Word is living, being, spirit, all verdant greening, all creativity. This Word manifests itself in every creature.

~Hildegard of Bingen

Everything that is in the heavens, on earth, and under the earth is penetrated with connectedness, penetrated with relatedness.

~Hildegard of Bingen

Be not lax in celebrating. Be not lazy in the festive service of God. Be ablaze with enthusiasm. Let us be an alive, burning offering before the altar of God.

~Hildegard of Bingen

A human being is a vessel that God has built for himself and filled with his inspiration so that his works are perfected in it.

~Hildegard of Bingen

Every creature is a glittering, glistening mirror of Divinity.

~Hildegard of Bingen

There is the music of Heaven in all things.

~Hildegard of Bingen

The earth which sustains humanity must not be injured. It must not be destroyed!

~Hildegard of Bingen

God has arranged everything in the universe in consideration of everything else.

~Hildegard of Bingen

Rivers of living water are to be poured out over the whole world, to ensure that people, like fishes caught in a net, can be restored to wholeness.

~Hildegard of Bingen

I, God, am in your midst. Whoever knows me can never fall. Not in the heights, nor in the depths, nor in the breadths. For I am love, which the vast expanses of evil can never still.

~Hildegard of Bingen

Divinity is in its omniscience and omnipotence like a wheel, a circle, a whole, that can neither be understood, nor divided, nor begun nor ended.

~Hildegard of Bingen

Our souls should be like a transparent crystal through which God can be perceived.

~Hildegard of Bingen

When the words come, they are merely empty shells without the music. They live as they are sung, for the words are the body and the music the spirit.

~Hildegard of Bingen

When one's thoughts are neither frivolous nor flippant, when one's thoughts are neither stiff-necked nor stupid, but rather, are harmonious -- they habitually render physical calm and deep insight.

~Hildegard of Bingen

I, the fiery life of divine wisdom, I ignite the beauty of the plains, I sparkle the water, I burn in the sun, and the moon, and the stars.

~Hildegard of Bingen

Cerevisiam Bibat! (drink beer for health)

~Hildegard of Bingen

All living creatures are sparks from the radiation of God's brilliance, emerging from God like the rays of the sun.

~Hildegard of Bingen

All of creation is a song of praise to God.

~Hildegard of Bingen

Love abounds in all things, excels from the depths to beyond the stars, is lovingly disposed to all things. She has given the king on high the kiss of peace.

~Hildegard of Bingen

You are encircled by the arms of the mystery of God.

~Hildegard of Bingen

With nature's help, humankind can set into creation all that is necessary and life sustaining.

~Hildegard of Bingen

Because a woman brought death a bright Maiden overcame it, and so the highest blessing in all of creation lies in the form of a woman, since God has become man in a sweet and blessed Virgin.

~Hildegard of Bingen

A person who lacks the verdancy of justice is dry, totally without tender goodness, totally without illuminating virtue.

~Hildegard of Bingen

Every element has a sound, an original sound from the order of God; all those sounds unite like the harmony from harps and zithers.

~Hildegard of Bingen

The word stands for the body, but the symphony stands for the spirit.

~Hildegard of Bingen

Just as a circle embraces all that is within it, so does the God-head embrace all. No one has the power to divide this circle, to surpass it, or to limit it.

~Hildegard of Bingen

I welcome all creatures of the world with grace.

~Hildegard of Bingen

Like billowing clouds, Like the incessant gurgle of the brook The longing of the spirit can never be stilled.

~Hildegard of Bingen

What I do not see I do not know. I see, hear and know simultaneously and learn what I know as if in a moment.

~Hildegard of Bingen

Humanity finds itself in the midst of the world. In the midst of all other creatures humanity is the most significant and yet the most dependent upon the others.

~Hildegard of Bingen

The soul is kissed by God in its innermost regions.

~Hildegard of Bingen

All the arts serving human desires and needs are derived from the breath that God sent into the human body.

~Hildegard of Bingen

Holy persons draw to themselves all that is earthly.

~Hildegard of Bingen

You are the mountain and the valley.

~Hildegard of Bingen

The truly holy person welcomes all that is earthly.

~Hildegard of Bingen

It is easier to gaze into the sun, than into the face of the mystery of God. Such is its beauty and its radiance.

~Hildegard of Bingen

If one intends to make beer from oats, it is prepared with hops.

~Hildegard of Bingen
