I am living breathing freedom.

~Hiroko Sakai

What I always say is that Japanese are like willow. We can be bent easily, but once you try to break us, it would not be so easy.

~Hiroko Sakai

Wherever I wander off to, when I draw, when I paint, I get my life back. I am lucky that I am an Artist.

~Hiroko Sakai

I am single because I am allergic for cursing words and bad table manners

~Hiroko Sakai

Everybody has own gifts from God. You just need to seize the right time, right place and right person to be found.

~Hiroko Sakai

The key to keep a great friendship is not to make friends with the people who are really not your friend.

~Hiroko Sakai

When I need some striking inspiration about deep depression for my new painting, I just need to go to check my bank account.

~Hiroko Sakai

The privilege of struggling artists is ... the life being buried in what we can't really afford of* what a gorgeous life!!

~Hiroko Sakai

When you get mad, it's the time you lose

~Hiroko Sakai

How come I have too many things to do all the time...??

~Hiroko Sakai

What are we artists for? We are for showing you what you've wandered for to find the home of your spirit.

~Hiroko Sakai

~Hiroko Sakai

Time is 'to make'. it is not 'to have'.

~Hiroko Sakai

Real Friends' are someone who are right next to you when you got in emergency, not in only parties.

~Hiroko Sakai

Maybe I might be repeating the same mistake again... But don't you think it is far better to regret what I have done than what I have not done yet...?

~Hiroko Sakai

Chance gives a smile to the one who is ready to take it

~Hiroko Sakai

When you paint late at night, drinking beer or wine or both, you gotta be very careful to watch what you are doing.

~Hiroko Sakai

If somebody tells me what to do, I will do my best not to do it.

~Hiroko Sakai

If we have received a precious gift from God, it is our imagination. When we tap into our powers of imagination, we are bombs of possibilities.
