When it is over, if it is over, this war will have horrible consequences. Instead of having one Bin Laden, we will have 100 Bin Ladens.

~Hosni Mubarak

The true victory is the victory for democracy and pluralism.

~Hosni Mubarak

We are meeting here to put an end to this cycle [of violence], to put things back in order and to put the wheel of peace on the right track. The task is very great, but our hopes are greater.

~Hosni Mubarak

Egypt firmly and strongly condemns such attacks on civilians and soldiers that led to the deaths of a large number of innocent victims.

~Hosni Mubarak

If there is one bin Laden now, there will be 100 bin Ladens afterward.

~Hosni Mubarak

We shall continue to work for a Middle East that is free of strife and violence, living in harmony without the threat of terrorism or the dangers of weapons of mass destruction.

~Hosni Mubarak

The people gave me the responsibility of building the future of this nation And I did it with honor.

~Hosni Mubarak

An honest observer of the evolution of conditions in Egypt would discover that terrorism is an alien phenomenon, strange to our values and heritage.

~Hosni Mubarak

Iraq should commit itself to implement the U.N. resolutions, and the Iraqi leadership should put the interests of its people into consideration.

~Hosni Mubarak

I have this to say to the people: go the polls and vote for the candidate of your choice... This is your responsibility; do not neglect it.

~Hosni Mubarak

Sharon is capable of making peace.

~Hosni Mubarak

...for the welfare of the whole world and the new world order.

~Hosni Mubarak

What is wrong with strengthening the opposition? You lose nothing, ...
But let them abide by the rules.

~Hosni Mubarak

Saudi Arabia has lost one of its dutiful sons, a leader among the most dear of its leaders and men.

~Hosni Mubarak

The secrecy that shrouded the vote counting by the special election committee cast doubts on the results and lacks transparency.
