Those who are filled with the love of Christ do not seek to force others to do better, they inspire others to do better.

~Howard W. Hunter

Being happily and successfully married is generally not so much a matter of marrying the right person as it is being the right person.

~Howard W. Hunter

True greatness...always requires regular, consistent, small, and sometimes ordinary and mundane steps over a long period of time.

~Howard W. Hunter

The gospel of Jesus Christ is not limited to a system of beliefs; it is a plan of action.

~Howard W. Hunter

That which is worth while is seldom easy.

~Howard W. Hunter

We need to remember that though we make our friends, God has made our neighbors - everywhere. Love should have no boundary; we should have no narrow loyalties.

~Howard W. Hunter

The family is the most important unit in time and in eternity and, as such, transcends every other interest in life.

~Howard W. Hunter

Faith is the element that builds the bridge in the absence of concrete evidence.

~Howard W. Hunter

Look to the temple of the Lord as the great symbol of your membership.

~Howard W. Hunter

The girl who chooses to be modest, chooses to be respected.

~Howard W. Hunter

Whatever Jesus lays His hands upon, lives. If He lays His hands upon a marriage, it lives. If He is allowed to lay His hands on the family, it lives.

~Howard W. Hunter

You should express regularly to your wife and children your reverence and respect for her. Indeed, one of the greatest things a father can do for his children is to love their mother.

~Howard W. Hunter

If you feel that . . . what you do this year or in the years to come does not make you very famous, take heart. Most of the best people who ever lived weren't very famous either.

~Howard W. Hunter

Motherhood is near to divinity. It is the highest, holiest service to be assumed by mankind.

~Howard W. Hunter

The path of repentance, though hard at times, lifts one ever upward and leads to a perfect forgiveness.

~Howard W. Hunter

What a glorious thing is life, surrounded by the beauties of the world in which we live.

~Howard W. Hunter

A righteous father protects his children with his time and presence.

~Howard W. Hunter

When we . . . read and study the scriptures, benefits and blessings of many kinds come to us. This is the most profitable of all study in which we could engage.

~Howard W. Hunter

Courage is acting in spite of fear.

~Howard W. Hunter

The atonement of Jesus Christ is the supreme act of love, the supreme example of selfless concern for others.

~Howard W. Hunter

Tender expressions of love and affection toward children are as much the responsibility of the father as the mother. Tell your children you love them.

~Howard W. Hunter

While waiting for promised blessings, one should not mark time, for to fail to move forward is to some degree a retrogression. Be anxiously engaged in good causes, including your own development.

~Howard W. Hunter

How sacredly do [we] regard the good name of another?...Do we pass on spicy bits of entertaining conversation...repeating rumors and stories which have not been submitted to the test of truth?

~Howard W. Hunter

Swallow what's bitter in the cup and move on.

~Howard W. Hunter

Surely the Lord loves, more than anything else, an unwavering determination to obey his counsel.

~Howard W. Hunter

The real spirit of Christmas lies in the life and mission of the Master.

~Howard W. Hunter

It is the deepest desire of my heart to have every member of the Church worthy to enter the temple.

~Howard W. Hunter

The real Christmas comes to him who has taken Christ into his life as a moving, dynamic, vitalizing force. The real spirit of Christmas lies in the life and mission of the Master.

~Howard W. Hunter

Why do we serve? When we understand why, we won't be concerned about where we serve.

~Howard W. Hunter

There is a great need to rally the women of the Church to stand with and for the Brethren in stemming the tide of evil that surrounds us.

~Howard W. Hunter

Tenderness and respect-never selfishness-must be the guiding principles in the intimate relationship between husband and wife

~Howard W. Hunter

We have every reason in time and eternity to rejoice and give thanks for the quality of our lives and the blessings we have been given.
