All you have is your fire And the place you need to reach Don't you ever tame your demons But always keep them on a leash

~Hozier

There is no sweeter innocence than our gentle sin

~Hozier

The song is about asserting yourself and reclaiming your humanity through an act of love.

~Hozier

The song, to me, is about what it is to be a human, what it is to love someone as a human being, and organizations that would undermine that, and undermine the more natural parts of being a person

~Hozier

Offer me that deathless death Good God, let me give you my life.

~Hozier

When I write songs, I try to remove myself a little bit. Obviously they're very personal to me, but it feels easier if I feel like I'm writing characters.

~Hozier

Art and music are the vehicle for the zeitgeist.

~Hozier

I think humans are driven by othering people, by defining themselves by who they are not and who is different from them. Human beings are in love with othering.

~Hozier

Sexuality, and sexual orientation - regardless of orientation - is just natural. An act of sex is one of the most human things.

~Hozier

Will there be a time when equality will exist? I think given human nature there will always be conflict.

~Hozier

I think if more people would understand how simple and what really feminism is, I would imagine that most men I know are feminists without verbalising or saying so.
