Problems are only opportunities with thorns on them.

~Hugh Miller

The sky is full of tokens which speak to the intelligent.

~Hugh Miller

Life itself is a school, and Nature always a fresh study.

~Hugh Miller

Prayer is so mighty an instrument that no one ever thoroughly mastered all its keys. They sweep along the infinite scale of man's wants and God's goodness.

~Hugh Miller

That special substance according to whose mass and degree of development all the creatures of this world take rank in the scale of creation, is not bone, but brain.

~Hugh Miller

It is an excellent circumstance that hospitality grows best where it is most needed.

~Hugh Miller

The footprint of the savage traced in the sand is sufficient to attest the presence of man to the atheist who will not recognize God, whose hand is impressed upon the entire universe.

~Hugh Miller

All geologic history is full of the beginning and the ends of species-of their first and last days; but it exhibits no genealogies of development.
