I was born when you kissed me. I died when you left me. I lived a few weeks while you loved me.

~Humphrey Bogart

The problem with the world is that everyone is a few drinks behind.

~Humphrey Bogart

I gave up drinking once -- it was the worst afternoon of my entire life.

~Humphrey Bogart

Acting is like sex: you either do it and don't talk about it, or you talk about it and don't do it. That's why I'm always suspicious of people who talk too much about either.

~Humphrey Bogart

(On Bette Davis) Even when I was carrying a gun, she scared the be-jesus out of me.

~Humphrey Bogart

Ain't nothing a man can't do if he believes in himself.

~Humphrey Bogart

I should never have switched from Scotch to Martinis.

~Humphrey Bogart

What's at the end of a million dollars? Zero, zero, zero... nothing. A circle with a hole in it.

~Humphrey Bogart

Rick: Here's looking at you, kid.

~Humphrey Bogart

Such a lot of guns around town and so few brains!

~Humphrey Bogart

A hot dog at the game beats roast beef at the Ritz.

~Humphrey Bogart

All you owe the public is a good performance.

~Humphrey Bogart

The only reason to make a million dollars in this business is to tell some fat producer to go to hell.

~Humphrey Bogart

The problem with this world is, everyone in it is 3 drinks behind.

~Humphrey Bogart

Things are never so bad they can't be made worse.

~Humphrey Bogart

The only good reason to have money is this: so that you can tell any SOB in the world to go to hell.

~Humphrey Bogart

Acting is experience with something sweet behind it.

~Humphrey Bogart

You're not a star until they can spell your name in Karachi.

~Humphrey Bogart

(on Warner Brothers) This studio has more suspensions than the Golden Gate Bridge.

~Humphrey Bogart

Sinatra's idea of paradise is a place where there are plenty of women and no newspapermen. He doesn't know it, but he'd be better off if it were the other way around.

~Humphrey Bogart

There is more to talking than just words.

~Humphrey Bogart

There never seems to be any trouble brewing around a bar until a woman puts that high heel over the brass rail. Don't ask me why, but somehow women at bars seem to create trouble among men.

~Humphrey Bogart

I hate funerals. They aren't for the guy who's dead. They're for the guys who are left alive and enjoy mourning.

~Humphrey Bogart

[On the House Un-American Activities Committee] They'll nail anyone who ever scratched his ass during the National Anthem.

~Humphrey Bogart

I let my drinking do the talking.

~Humphrey Bogart

Ugarte: You despise me, don't you? Rick Blaine: If I gave you any thought I probably would.

~Humphrey Bogart

I always cry at weddings, especially my own.

~Humphrey Bogart

The only point in making money is, you can tell some big shot where to go.

~Humphrey Bogart

The only thing money is good for is to buy your freedom.

~Humphrey Bogart

The whole world is about three drinks behind.

~Humphrey Bogart

People who don't drink are afraid of revealing themselves.

~Humphrey Bogart

(On Ingrid Bergman) "I didn't do anything I've never done before, but when the camera moves in on that Bergman face, and she's saying she loves you, it would make anybody feel romantic."

~Humphrey Bogart

An actor needs something to stabilize his personality, something to nail down what he really is, not what he is currently pretending to be.

~Humphrey Bogart

the problems of three little people in a big world don't add up to much

~Humphrey Bogart

I stick my neck out for nobody!

~Humphrey Bogart

This guy (Marlon Brando) - he'll be doing Hamlet when the rest of us are selling potatoes.

~Humphrey Bogart

Errol Flynn and I are the only ones left who do any good old hell raising.

~Humphrey Bogart

It's a good thing [James] Dean died when he did. If he'd lived, he'd never have been able to live up to the publicity.

~Humphrey Bogart

I can't say I ever loved my mother; I admired her.

~Humphrey Bogart

The only way to find the best actor would be to let everybody play Hamlet and let the best man win.

~Humphrey Bogart

I made more lousy pictures than any actor in history.

~Humphrey Bogart
