I need something to do when I'm not working, or I crawl up the walls. So I've just taken up kung fu. I was looking for some kind of calming, relaxing activity. I tried yoga, but it wasn't really me.

~Ian Hart

Even before my audition, there were several pages missing from my script because those bits were so unbelievably secret not even I was allowed to see them.

~Ian Hart

My philosophy was, if I just do good work, someone will like it enough to employ me. It never made me famous. And I'm way, way too old now, mate. That boat's sailed.

~Ian Hart

I'm still working, I've got two arms, two legs, two gorgeous kids, a lovely wife. Fifteen years ago, I was homeless. So when you think about it, I'm lucky.

~Ian Hart

I'm belligerent rather than ambitious.

~Ian Hart

I hate auditions - when I'm doing them, I can't wait to get out the bleeding door.

~Ian Hart

It's not any desire on my part to start playing dads, but it's a convention of drama. If you don't get the parts of young people going out to nightclubs, you have to play their fathers.

~Ian Hart

When you get to 15 and most of your teachers are priests, there's bound to be a conflict.

~Ian Hart

That's what I like about Neil Jordan's films: everyone is better at what they do than you are.

~Ian Hart

I just want to be rich and famous.

~Ian Hart

Not being able to work would make me very unhappy.

~Ian Hart

I'm not usually attracted to big-budget American films.

~Ian Hart

You learn more doing than doing training.

~Ian Hart

I've only used my own voice about four times on film.

~Ian Hart

Everyone should be good at what they do.
