Maybe I think you're cute and funny. Maybe I wanna do what bunnies do with you, if you know what I mean.

~Ingrid Michaelson

I love you more than I could ever promise because you take me the way I am.

~Ingrid Michaelson

If you wait for someone else's hand, you will surely fall down.

~Ingrid Michaelson

When I said I was born a feminist, I was born thinking woman are equal to men, if not stronger than men. That's the way I always was.

~Ingrid Michaelson

I've never been one to get up on a soapbox and preach. I just live my life the way I live my life.

~Ingrid Michaelson

Happy is the Heart that still feels Pain

~Ingrid Michaelson

Music to me is something that I didn't choose; it was a necessity. I grew up with music, my father is a musician. It makes me happy; it makes people happy.

~Ingrid Michaelson

It should be like a driver's license - no one can have an Instagram until they're 18. It's the wild, wild west, the internet.

~Ingrid Michaelson

I didn't grow up in a naked household, but nudity was not a taboo thing. My mother was an artist and there were naked sculptures and paintings all over the place.

~Ingrid Michaelson

For as long as we can trace back human life, there's always been some sort of music - ceremonies, rituals. It's part of the human makeup.

~Ingrid Michaelson

I think just letting go is a really good thing to do in many areas of your life, songwriting included.

~Ingrid Michaelson

All the broken hearts in the world still beat

~Ingrid Michaelson

I think kids who have music in their lives are more focused. They have better attention spans. They excel more in their studies. They have a better sense of self-esteem and self-worth.

~Ingrid Michaelson

Some of the songs I wanted to be really full, [but] there's something to be said for just a voice and a guitar

~Ingrid Michaelson

That sounds really simplistic, but if I'm in an enclosed space, or my apartment, and I live very close to a park - there's something about being outside and being near things that are green.

~Ingrid Michaelson

Being in a room with other people's energy yields such a different result. I love writing by myself still, but there's something amazing about sharing that experience with someone else.

~Ingrid Michaelson

When you're writing with someone else it helps you think of things you never would've thought of.

~Ingrid Michaelson

Everybody, everybody wants to be loved

~Ingrid Michaelson
