There are things that drift away like our endless, numbered days

~Iron & Wine

We all assume the worst the best we can.

~Iron & Wine

I'm one of those people who sort of feeds on music.

~Iron & Wine

I just try to use my own life to build a human song: something that people can relate to in some way. It's not like the psychiatrist's couch or anything.

~Iron & Wine

I like writing in an illustrative, descriptive way. I prefer describing to rather than explaining.

~Iron & Wine

We play some smaller songs larger than they are the record, and vice versa. It took me a while to get used to playing live.

~Iron & Wine

It's fun to be able to revisit a song and do something that doesn't really illustrate the song but works tangentially or runs parallel to the song in some way.

~Iron & Wine

I'm kind of interested in visual communication. For me it's more about suggesting than arguing a point.

~Iron & Wine

I had all these songs lying around. They had all these woman characters, and I thought the idea of the Woman King would be a good way to tie them all together.

~Iron & Wine

It sort of depends on the song. Some of them are pretty easy to write, and others take a while. I do a lot of writing in the morning.

~Iron & Wine

There are good places to play and bad places.

~Iron & Wine

The song succeeds or fails just based on whether you argue your point successfully.

~Iron & Wine

In some songs, like propaganda songs-and don't get me wrong, I love some propaganda songs. They're some of my favorite songs in the world. It's just that I don't enjoy writing it.
