It is weight that gives meaning to weightlessness.

~Isamu Noguchi

You can find out how to do something and then do it or do something and then find out what you did.

~Isamu Noguchi

Everything is sculpture. Any material, any idea without hindrance born into space, I consider sculpture.

~Isamu Noguchi

When an artist stopped being a child, he would stop being an artist.

~Isamu Noguchi

To order space is to give it meaning.

~Isamu Noguchi

We are a landscape of all we have seen.

~Isamu Noguchi

The best is that which is most spontaneous or seemingly so.

~Isamu Noguchi

In my work, I wanted something irreducible, an absence of the gimmicky and clever.

~Isamu Noguchi

I am always learning, always discovering.

~Isamu Noguchi

The art of stone in a Japanese garden is that of placement. Its ideal does not deviate from that of nature.

~Isamu Noguchi

Appreciate the moment.

~Isamu Noguchi

Art should become as one with its surroundings.

~Isamu Noguchi

The essence of sculpture is for me the perception of space, the continuum of our existence.

~Isamu Noguchi

I perceive my limitations even as I work. There are times when I see nothing but restrictions, barriers. Learning takes time.

~Isamu Noguchi

When the time came for me to work with larger spaces, I conceived them as gardens, not as sites with objects but as relationships to a whole.
