As in any war, there have been dreadful mistakes and civilian casualties. The difference is when Israelis kill innocents they apologize; when Hezbollah kills innocents they celebrate.

~J. D. Hayworth

Enforcement is the long overdue step to protect our Nation from external threats in a time of war. And then once we do that, we can effectively discuss a guest worker program.

~J. D. Hayworth

New technologies such as solar systems or hybrid cars aren't created overnight. By extending these tax credits we are giving this industry time to grow, branch out and succeed.

~J. D. Hayworth

We know over very national survival is at stake; and we believe that we should support our troops, yes, and work for an outcome that results in victory.

~J. D. Hayworth

You see, party labels do not ensure unanimity any more than trying to cast the challenge we confront as a people through a partisan prism.

~J. D. Hayworth

Here are the facts we confront. No one is against conservation. No one is against alternative fuel sources.

~J. D. Hayworth

The minimum wage was due for an increase, but it was important that we offset its cost to small businesses.

~J. D. Hayworth

A fair question could be posed in this fashion: If people are not obeying existing laws, what makes us think they would obey any new laws?

~J. D. Hayworth

Those who have heard me speak from time to time know that quite often I cite the observation of that great American author, Mark Twain, who said, history does not repeat itself, but it rhymes.

~J. D. Hayworth

The American people demand results, not rhetoric, especially when it comes to national security issues.

~J. D. Hayworth

The problem we are dealing with at the border is not a Democratic problem. It is not a Republican problem. It is an American problem.

~J. D. Hayworth

Ensuring that high quality water is provided to all Arizona's citizens is the responsibility of elected officials at all levels and I am happy to do all I can to assist the city's efforts.

~J. D. Hayworth

The security of our country is not just a top priority, it's the top priority.

~J. D. Hayworth

The American people are not just being taxed to death; they're being taxed after death. But, no one should have to sell the life's work of a parent or a loved one just to pay the federal government.

~J. D. Hayworth

Solar power is clean, renewable and cost effective, but it also needs time to develop.
