Work joyfully and peacefully, knowing that right thoughts and right efforts inevitably bring about right results.

~James Allen

Men are anxious to improve their circumstances, but are unwilling to improve themselves; they therefore remain bound.

~James Allen

A man sooner or later discovers that he is the master-gardener of his soul, the director of his life.

~James Allen

In all human affairs there are efforts, and there are results, and the strength of the effort is the measure of the result.

~James Allen

Self-control is strength. Right thought is mastery. Calmness is power.

~James Allen

The more tranquil a man becomes, the greater is his success, his influence, his power for good. Calmness of mind is one of the beautiful jewels of wisdom.

~James Allen

The outer conditions of a person's life will always be found to reflect their inner beliefs.

~James Allen

Our life is what our thoughts make it. A man will find that as he alters his thoughts toward things and other people, things and other people will alter towards him.

~James Allen

No duty is more urgent than that of returning thanks.

~James Allen

The soul attracts that which it secretly harbors; that which it loves, and also that which it fears.

~James Allen

Think lovingly, speak lovingly, act lovingly, and every need shall be supplied.

~James Allen

Circumstances do not make the man, they reveal him.

~James Allen

Men do not attract that which they want, but that which they are.

~James Allen

A noble and God-like character is not a thing of favor or chance, but is the natural result of continued effort in right thinking, the effect of long-cherished association with God-like thoughts.

~James Allen

For true success ask yourself these four questions: Why? Why not? Why not me? Why not now?

~James Allen

Thought is the fountain of action, life and manifestation; make the fountain pure, and all will be pure.

~James Allen

The man who sows wrong thoughts and deeds and prays that God will bless him is in the position of a farmer who, having sown tares, asks God to bring forth for him a harvest of wheat.

~James Allen

As a man thinketh in his heart, so shall he be

~James Allen

The law of harvest is to reap more than you sow. Sow an act, and you reap a habit. Sow a habit and you reap a character. Sow a character and you reap a destiny.

~James Allen

A man remains ignorant because he loves ignorance, and chooses ignorant thoughts; a man becomes wise because he loves wisdom and chooses wise thoughts.

~James Allen

Jesus brooded upon the Divine imminence until at last he could declare, 'I and my Father are One.'

~James Allen

They who have conquered doubt and fear have conquered failure.

~James Allen

A man can only rise, conquer, and achieve by lifting up his thoughts.

~James Allen

Mind is the master weaver, both of the inner garment of character and the outer garment of circumstance.

~James Allen

Good thoughts bear good fruit, bad thoughts bear bad fruit.

~James Allen

Man's mind may be likened to a garden, which may be intelligently cultivated or allowed to run wild.

~James Allen

A person is limited only by the thoughts that he chooses.

~James Allen

The key to happiness is having dreams; the key to success is making them come true.

~James Allen

He thinks in secret, and it comes to pass: environment is but his looking glass.

~James Allen

Circumstance does not make the man; it reveals him to himself.

~James Allen

The man who thinks hateful thoughts brings hatred upon himself. The man who thinks loving thoughts is loved.

~James Allen

As he thinks, so he is; as he continues to think, so he remains.

~James Allen

The vision that you glorify in your mind, the Ideal that you enthrone in your heart - this you will build your life by, this you will become.

~James Allen

If your real desire is to be good, there is no need to wait for the money before you do it; you can do it now, this very moment, and just where you are.

~James Allen

There can be no progress, no achievement without sacrifice.

~James Allen

If you would perfect your body, guard your mind.

~James Allen

Man is made or unmade by himself. By the right choice he ascends. As a being of power, intelligence, and love, and the lord of his own thoughts, he holds the key to every situation.

~James Allen

You will become as small as your controlling desire; as great as your dominant aspiration.

~James Allen

Let there be nothing within thee that is not very beautiful and very gentle, and there will be nothing without thee that is not beautiful and softened by the spell of thy presence.

~James Allen

Spiritual meditation is the pathway to Divinity. It is a mystic ladder which reaches from earth to heaven, from error to Truth, from pain to peace.

~James Allen

No temptation can gravitate to a man unless there is that is his heart which is capable of responding to it.

~James Allen

The man who cannot endure to have his errors and shortcomings brought to the surface and made known, but tries to hide them, is unfit to walk the highway of truth.

~James Allen

Cease to be a disobedient child in the school of experience, and begin to learn, with humility and patience, the lessons that are set for your ultimate perfection.

~James Allen

A man is literally what he thinks, his character being the complete sum of all his thoughts.

~James Allen

He who cherishes a beautiful vision, a lofty ideal in his heart, will one day realize it.

~James Allen

It is a process of diverting one's scattered forces into one powerful channel.

~James Allen

The body is the servant of the mind. It obeys the operations of the mind, whether they be deliberately chosen or automatically expressed.

~James Allen

The very fact that you are a complainer, shows that you deserve your lot.

~James Allen

The more intense the nature of a man, the more readily will he find meditation, and the more successfully will he practice it.

~James Allen

He who would accomplish little must sacrifice little; he who would achieve much must sacrifice much; he who would attain highly must sacrifice greatly.

~James Allen

The outer conditions of a person's life will always be found to be harmoniously related to his inner state...Men do not attract that which they want, but that which they are.

~James Allen

Fixedness of purpose is the root of all successful efforts.

~James Allen

No man is hindered by another; he is only hindered by himself. No man suffers because of another; he suffers only because of himself.

~James Allen

As the plant springs from, and could not be without, the seed, so every act of man springs from the hidden seeds of thought, and could not have appeared without them.

~James Allen

Suffering is always the effect of wrong thought in some direction. It is an indication that the individual is out of harmony with himself, with the Law of his being.

~James Allen

As in the rankest soil the most beautiful flowers are grown, so in the dark soil of poverty the choicest flowers of humanity have developed and bloomed.

~James Allen

To desire is to obtain; to aspire is to achieve.

~James Allen

As the physically weak man can make himself strong by careful and patient training, so the man of weak thoughts can make them strong by exercising himself in right thinking.

~James Allen

Harmony is one phase of the law whose spiritual expression is love.

~James Allen

All that you accomplish or fail to accomplish with your life is the direct result of your thoughts.

~James Allen

The dreamers are the saviors of the world.

~James Allen

The will to do springs from the knowledge that we can do.

~James Allen

Thus meditating you will no longer strive to build yourself up in your prejudices, but, forgetting self, you will remember only that you are seeking the Truth.

~James Allen

Above all be of single aim; have a legitimate and useful purpose, and devote yourself unreservedly to it.

~James Allen

Your circumstances may be uncongenial, but they shall not long remain so if you but perceive an Ideal and strive to reach it.

~James Allen

Happiness is mental harmony; unhappiness is mental inharmony.

~James Allen

He who would be useful, strong, and happy must cease to be a passive receptacle for the negative, beggarly, and impure streams of thought.

~James Allen

Act is the blossom of thought; and joy and suffering are its fruits; thus does a man garner in the sweet and bitter fruitage of his own husbandry

~James Allen

Every action and feeling is preceded by a thought.

~James Allen

The circumstances which a man encounters with suffering are the result of his own mental inharmony.

~James Allen

When mental energy is allowed to follow the line of least resistance and to fall into easy channels, it is called weakness.

~James Allen

Nature gives all, without reservation, and loses nothing; man or woman, grasping all, loses everything.
