~James Callaghan

Some people, however long their experience or strong their intellect, are temperamentally incapable of reaching firm decisions.

~James Callaghan

A leader has to appear consistent. That doesn't mean he has to be consistent.

~James Callaghan

Unilateral disarmament by Britain is opposed to our country's best interests, could begin the unravelling of NATO and therefore jeopardise the stability of Europe.

~James Callaghan

If the law is a bad law, there is always the contingent right to take action that you would not otherwise take.

~James Callaghan

I've never been one to say that Britain was joining a happy band of brothers.

~James Callaghan

You never reach the promised land. You can march towards it

~James Callaghan

Society today is so organised that every individual group has the power to disrupt it. How is their power to be channelled into constructive channels?

~James Callaghan

I hate putting up taxes.

~James Callaghan

Those who advocate devaluation are calling for a reduction in the wage levels and the real wage standards of every member of the working class.

~James Callaghan
