Anybody who has political ambition has an Achilles heel.

~James Callis

I think that there should be a Gaius Baltar Award for Moral Cowardice given out to people every year.

~James Callis

I think the level of devotion some sci-fi fans display turns other people off.

~James Callis

On a personal note, myself, I find religion - I can understand it, I can understand why we have it, as a kind of force on the planet. And I also at the same time think it's ludicrous.

~James Callis

I was convinced that I was going to be onstage for the rest of my life.

~James Callis

My first show, in England, was called Soldier, Soldier.

~James Callis

Jokes are very curious things psychologically.

~James Callis

When somebody says, Action, I act. When they say, Cut, that's my job. I've done it.

~James Callis

I never talk about filming until I'm actually on the set and I've got the job, because otherwise - "Oh yeah, I'm going to be so busy," and then you're going to see me in McDonald's in two months.

~James Callis

I think it was in my second week that I auditioned for Battlestar. I was very "Oh gosh, I want to be in television, I want to be in something, but I don't know if I want to be in this."

~James Callis
