You'll always make mistakes and you'll miss the mark sometimes. That's inevitably going to happen, because the best people in the world make mistakes - even people who are brilliant.

~James Corden

Who puts strawberries in a salad? Seriously, is this a thing now? Is it a thing I don't know about? Is it an American thing? It can be. It's freaking me out.

~James Corden

Whatever it is, I just loved it and felt at my absolute happiest when I was performing for people. And if that's what you want from a job, then this is the best job you could ever do.

~James Corden

Funny is funny. And if it's good, it travels.

~James Corden

To be honest, all I wanted to do, all I ever, ever wanted to do - I just wanted to perform.

~James Corden

I guess I have a faith. I have an overriding feeling that all of this can't be for nothing. But then I also fully understand that it might be.

~James Corden

I sometimes have an over-confidence that can be viewed as arrogance.

~James Corden

I've always wanted to be in musicals, not just in film, but on stage. I think it's a wonderful medium.

~James Corden

Fondue is not a good date food. You end up with cheese dripping down your face.

~James Corden

Rap and dance is pretty much what I want to be known for.

~James Corden

Sometimes you can have a reputation for not being relatable and nice because you had a bad day once.

~James Corden

It would be really arrogant of us to not have any of the fears.

~James Corden

There's nothing more creative I'll ever do in my career than trying to make an hour of TV everyday.

~James Corden

There's just been a couple of moments where - we did the one [Carpool Karaoke] with Justin Bieber, which kind of went crazy and I think is at, like 65 million views on YouTube .

~James Corden

I love hard work. One Man, Two Guvnors was so physically tiring I ached all the time, but I took a massive amount of pride in the fact that I only ever missed two shows.

~James Corden

I'm not sure people even think of me as an actor at all.

~James Corden

I'm a professional singer. I have a theory that all actors want to be rock stars, and all rock stars want to be actors. I spent my whole school life forming boy bands.

~James Corden

Fondue is not a good date food.

~James Corden

Theater is so wonderful and brilliant but it lasts very much in the moment. It's there and then it's gone.

~James Corden

There's always this kind of odd idea that people would say, "Oh, do you know the Queen?" But really people are much smarter than that.
