Children are not casual guests in our home. They have been loaned to us temporarily for the purpose of loving them and instilling a foundation of values on which their future lives will be built.

~James Dobson

There is nothing more important than parents passing on a generational legacy of faith and values to their children.

~James Dobson

If homes are going to survive, it will be because husbands and fathers again place their families at the highest level on their system of priorities.

~James Dobson

Don't marry the person you think you can live with; marry only the individual you think you can't live without.

~James Dobson

The footsteps a child follows are most likely to be the ones his parents thought they covered up.

~James Dobson

Can't you see the Creator of the universe, who understands every secret, every mystery, sitting patiently and listening to a four-year-old talk to Him? That's a beautiful image of a father.

~James Dobson

One of the most important responsibilities in the Christian life is to care about others, smile at them, and be a friend to the friendless.

~James Dobson

Those who control what young people are taught, and what they experience - what they see, hear, think, and believe - will determine the future course for the nation.

~James Dobson

The Lord doesn't always remove the sources of stress in our lives...but He's always there and cares for us. We can feel His arms around us on the darkest night.

~James Dobson

My legacy doesn't matter. It isn't important that I be remembered. It's important that when I stand before the Lord, he says, 'Well done, good and faithful servant.' I want to finish strong.

~James Dobson

We are so busy giving our children what we never had that we forget to give them what we did have.

~James Dobson

Marriage succeeds only as lifetime commitment with no escape clauses.

~James Dobson

Children represent God's most generous gift to us.

~James Dobson

Trust involves letting go and knowing God will catch you.

~James Dobson

A child identifies his parents with God, whether or not the adults want that role. Most children 'see' God the way they perceive their earthly fathers.

~James Dobson

Morality and immorality are not defined by man's changing attitudes and social customs. They are determined by the God of the universe, whose timeless standards cannot be ignored with impunity.

~James Dobson

Show me a husband who keeps his thoughts to himself, and I will show you a frustrated wife.

~James Dobson

The final heartbeat for the Christian is not the mysterious conclusion to a meaningless existence. It is, rather, the grand beginning to a life that will never end.

~James Dobson

A boy or girl who knows that love abounds at home will not resent well-deserved punishment. One who is unloved or ignored will hate any form of discipline.

~James Dobson

Joy comes from knowing God loves me, knows who I am and where I'm going ... that my future is secure as I rest in Him.

~James Dobson

I don't blame homosexuals for being angry when people say they've made a choice to be gay because they don't.

~James Dobson

The right to criticize must be earned, even if the advice is constructive in nature.

~James Dobson

God's Heart is especially tender toward the downtrodden and the defeated. He knows your name and He has seen every tear you have shed.

~James Dobson

One of the problems with sex education... is that it also strips kids - especially girls - of their modesty to have every detail of anatomy, physiology and condom usage made explicit.

~James Dobson

There are very few certainties that touch us all in this mortal experience, but one of the absolutes is that we will experience hardship and stress at some point.

~James Dobson

Keep your eyes wide open before marriage, and halfway closed there after.

~James Dobson

A good marriage is not one where perfection reigns: it is a relationship where a healthy perspective overlooks a multitude of "unresolvables."

~James Dobson

Respect is intended to operate on a two-way street.

~James Dobson

We human beings can survive the most difficult of circumstances if we are not forced to stand alone.

~James Dobson

Extreme independence is as destructive to a relationship as total dependence.

~James Dobson

Loving discipline encourages a child to respect other people and live as a responsible, constructive citizen.

~James Dobson

God does not need our money. But you and I need the experience of giving it

~James Dobson

Great beginnings are not as important as the way one finishes.

~James Dobson

Faith in God - life can never take you by surprise again.

~James Dobson

God has called us to be His representatives in our nation and in our world. Select candidates who represent your views and work for their election.

~James Dobson

It is our uniqueness that gives freshness and vitality to a relationship.

~James Dobson

My dad and I hunted and fished together. How could I get angry at this man who took the time to be with me?

~James Dobson

Touching Hearts, Changing Lives.

~James Dobson

We Americans are living a lifestyle of exhaustion. We don't have time for ourselves, much less for each other and our children.

~James Dobson

Conceit is a weird disease - it makes everybody sick except the guy who has it.

~James Dobson

No man stands so tall as when he stoops to help a child.

~James Dobson

If two men or two women can marry, then there is no way a court could deny three men and two women or any combination thereof.

~James Dobson

Communities do not let prostitutes, pedophiles, voyeurs, adulterers, and those who sexually prefer animals to publicly celebrate their lifestyles, so why should homosexuals get such privileges?

~James Dobson

'Dare to Discipline' was published in 1970 in the midst of the Vietnam War and a culture of rebellion. The book was written in that context, but the principles of child rearing have not changed.

~James Dobson

It will always hurt to be laughed at, snubbed, ignored or attacked by others. But I would remind you that the human personality grows through adversity, provided it is not crushed in the process.

~James Dobson

When these parenting years have passed, something precious will have flickered and gone out of my life. Thus, I am resolved to enjoy every day that remains in this fathering era.

~James Dobson

When you let people put you up on a pedestal, you step one step in any direction, and you're going to go down.

~James Dobson

You have to work to keep love alive; you have to protect it and maintain it, just like you would a delicate flower.

~James Dobson

I'm certain that most couples expect to find intimacy in marriage, but it somehow eludes them.

~James Dobson

To those who say Ted Bundy should burn forever in eternity I would only say, so should I, so should all of us.

~James Dobson

Those who are the happiest are not necessarily those for whom life has been easiest.

~James Dobson

Authority is God ordained, but authoritarianism and raw power, in almost all forms, is dangerous.

~James Dobson

My observation is that women are merely waiting for their husbands to assume leadership.

~James Dobson

Homosexuals are not monogamous. They want to destroy the institution of marriage. It will destroy marriage. It will destroy the Earth.

~James Dobson

It is impossible to overstate the need for prayer in the fabric of family life.

~James Dobson

It is deeply moving, powerful, and disturbing. A film that must be seen.

~James Dobson

Although individual temperaments vary, boys are designed to be more assertive, audacious, and excitable than girls are.

~James Dobson

I'm still heard on 1,500 radio stations across North America every day, about 220 million people a day in 150 countries.

~James Dobson

The United States has been from the beginning greatly influenced and primarily influenced by the Judeo-Christian system of values.

~James Dobson

If traditional marriage is not the law of the land, the institution of the family will cease to exist.

~James Dobson

I would not vote for John McCain under any circumstances.

~James Dobson

I cannot, and will not, vote for Senator John McCain, as a matter of conscience.
