Seek to do good, and you will find that happiness will run after you.

~James Freeman Clarke

A politician thinks of the next election. A statesman, of the next generation.

~James Freeman Clarke

It may make a difference to all eternity whether we do right or wrong today.

~James Freeman Clarke

Never hurry. Take plenty of exercise. Always be cheerful. Take all the sleep you need. You may expect to be well.

~James Freeman Clarke

We are either progressing or retrograding all the while; there is no such thing as remaining stationary in this life.

~James Freeman Clarke

Conscience in the soul is the root of all true courage. If a man would be brave, let him learn to obey his conscience.

~James Freeman Clarke

Manliness means perfect manhood, as womanliness implies perfect womanhood. Manliness is the character of a man as he ought to be, as he was meant to be.

~James Freeman Clarke

I can do small things in a great way.

~James Freeman Clarke

The atheist has no hope.

~James Freeman Clarke

Art itself, in all its methods, is the child of religion. The highest and best works in architecture, sculpture and painting, poetry and music, have been born out of the religion of Nature.

~James Freeman Clarke

The bravest of individuals is the one who obeys his or her conscience.

~James Freeman Clarke

Love is the spirit of life, and makes all things live.

~James Freeman Clarke

Conscience is the root of all true courage.

~James Freeman Clarke

Religion is life, philosophy is thought; religion looks up, friendship looks in. We need both thought and life, and we need that the two shall be in harmony.

~James Freeman Clarke

All the strength and force of man come from his faith in things unseen.

~James Freeman Clarke

Whenever we do what we can, we immediately can do more.

~James Freeman Clarke

When we trust our brother, whom we have seen, we are learning to trust God, whom we have not seen.

~James Freeman Clarke

He who believes in goodness has the essence of all faith. He is a man of cheerful yesterdays and confident to-morrows.

~James Freeman Clarke

Even where there is talent, culture, knowledge, if there is not earnestness, it does not go to the root of things.

~James Freeman Clarke

Take thy self-denials gaily and cheerfully, and let the sunshine of thy gladness fall on dark things and bright alike, like the sunshine of the Almighty.

~James Freeman Clarke

It is no natural for a man to pray that no theory can prevent him from doing it.
