Any theology that is indifferent to the theme of liberation is not Christian theology.

~James H. Cone

The truth about injustice always sounds outrageous.

~James H. Cone

If we save the planet and have a society of inequality, we wouldn't have saved much.

~James H. Cone

The acid test of any truth is found in whether it aids victims in their struggle to overcome victimisation.

~James H. Cone

To be Christian is to be one of those whom God has chosen. God has chosen black people!

~James H. Cone

Testimony is an integral part of the Black religious tradition. It is the occasion where the believer stands before the community of faith in order to give account of the hope that is in him or her.

~James H. Cone

One can lynch a person without a rope or tree.

~James H. Cone

Unless God is participating in this holy activity, we must reject his love.

~James H. Cone

Anger and humour are like the left and right arm. They complement each other.

~James H. Cone
